NAZIS BATTLE TO HOLD CHERBOURG

RAF SENDS BIG FLEET AGAINST NAZI RAILROADS

Yards in Network Leading To Normandy Battlefront Hit in Night Raids.

By The Associated Press

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS ALLIED EXPEDITIONARY FORCE, June 23—RAF heavy bombers attacked the Nazi reinforcement-crammed railway yards at Reims and Laon last night, capping one of the allies' biggest days of aerial operations since the Normandy invasion was launched.

Seven bombers were missing from the assault on these key rail points, both about 80 miles northeast of Paris. The yards are in the network of lines leading toward the battlefront from Germany and the lowlands.

British light bombers hit rail targets at Lisieux, Dreux and Evreux last night while fighters and intruders destroyed seven German planes over northern France.

The night blows came after at least 6,000 allied planes dumped probably more than 8,000 tons of bombs on targets from embattled Cherbourg to Paris from dawn to dusk yesterday. More than 6,000 sorties (individual plane flights) were made.

Planes Fly Low

The aerial assault yesterday supported at pistol range the advance of ground troops at Cherbourg. Coordinated blows were struck at German headquarters, forest-hidden fuel dumps, railroad and highway traffic as far inland as Paris, and at the Germans' rocket-hurling bases in the Pas De Calais.

The big British Lancasters and Halifaxes took up the assault as darkness brought the Germans the only period around the clock that they now dare move forces in any considerable amount.

British Mosquitos also made an attack on Hamburg last night, the air ministry announced.

With reports on some missions still unannounced, it was disclosed 23 allied planes, including 11 heavy bombers and two mediums,

Soldier From Marion Killed

Staff Sgt. Ray M. Pinney Meets Death in Anzio Beachhead Accident.

Staff Sgt. Ray M. Pinney Jr., stepson of Mrs. Sadie Pinney of 130 East Center street, and son of the late Ray M. Pinney, was killed in a vehicle accident June 8, in Italy, according to word received by Mrs. Pinney.

No details were given in the telegram received by her from the War Department yesterday afternoon. It stated, however, that a letter would follow.

In the last letter received from Sgt. Pinney, written June 5, he told his mother he was at a small villa near Rome. He had been at Anzio Beachhead with the 94th Quartermaster Railhead Division.

Sgt. Pinney attended Edison Junior High school and before entering in the service on March 1941, was employed as a cook at Paulson's Grill. He had been overseas since January, 1943, taking part in the invasion of North Africa and Sicily.

Survivors include, with the stepmother, his wife, Mrs. Mae Pinney of 466 West Center street and a sister, Mrs. Wayne Ruby of 365 Henry street.

TASK FORCE 58 ROAMS PACIFIC

Washington Reveals Existence of Giant U. S. Naval Armada in Far East.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, June 23 — "The entire Pacific ocean to the gates of Japan is its stamping ground."

With these words the Navy revealed existence of task force 58, "most powerful and destructive naval unit in the history of sea warfare."

It was task force 58—alone—which met, defeated and sent scurrying into hiding a Japanese fleet that dared to move east of the Philippines Monday.

Make-up of the hard-hitting and gigantic task force is secret. But, Rear Admiral Arthur W. Radford, deputy chief of naval operations for air, gave this hint of its size—

"We can safely assume that most of the 22 big new carriers commissioned since Pearl Harbor have been operating as part of the vast task force 58."

Carries Own Supply Ships

Newest and swiftest of the fleet's battleships, cruisers and destroyers also are assigned to the mighty force, which carries its own supply train of ships to provide a constant source of fuel and materials.

For six months it has been battering the Japanese and, the Navy says flatly, has "reversed the direction of traffic in the Pacific ocean"—turned it to a one-way run toward Japan.

Few Japanese have seen the 58th in daylight and managed to return to their home with startling word of its magnitude. One who was shot and captured saw the force, the Navy related, "scattered over the sea as far as his eyes could peer." He told his captors that "one look at task force 58 convinced him that Japan had lost the war."

The Jap Was Right

"And, he was quite right!" says Admiral Radford.

Task force 58 ran in to blast Truk—once strongest Japanese base in the south Pacific—for the first time, battered Palau, Yap, Saipan, Marcus, Wake, Tinian and scores of other islands. Too, it staged the daring attack only a week ago on the Volcano and Bonin island bases less than 500 miles from Japan's homeland.

Commanding the armada is 57-year-old Vice Adm. Marc A. Mitscher, short, thin, retiring admiral who fights much more than he talks, and refers always to "we," never to "I," in discussing operations.

Mitscher and 58 are on the prowl again. "Just where this floating strategic air force will strike next," the Navy says, "is a constant source of conjecture and worry for the enemy. Its one and one-quarter million square feet of runway from which it can launch well over a thousand planes can be moved at will throughout the Pacific, even to Japan itself."

G.O.P. FOREIGN POLICY PLANK IS DRAFTED

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, June 23—A foreign policy proposing international "peace forces" to prevent or repel military aggression went before the Republican platform committee today.

One committee member promptly called the draft ambiguous and asserted it would have to be revised to "say what it means." It bore the unanimous recommendations of the foreign relations subcommittee of the Republican post war advisory council. Sen. Arthur Vandenberg of Michigan predicted early approval.

As debate thus blossomed over the platform, the battle of backers of Gov. Thomas E Dewey of New York and Ohio's Gov. Bricker for

JAPANESE NAVY LEAVES SAIPAN FORCE TO FATE

20,000 Enemy Troops, Now Outnumbered, Apparently Abandoned by Tokyo.

By The Associated Press

U. S. PACIFIC FLEET HEADQUARTERS, PEARL HARBOR, June 23—Twenty thousand Japanese, apparently abandoned to their death by a routed Nipponese fleet, were hit high and low today on Saipan by a Yank invasion army which now outnumbers the foe.

Sensing almost certain victory in the distant Marianas as the aftermath of a one-sided sea triumph, the reinforced Yanks scaled the heights and probed the flatlands of that island gateway to Japan, China and the Philippines.

The scales were tipped heavily in favor of the United States Monday by "task force 58," a newly-disclosed fast and mighty armada with perhaps 20 of the nearly 100 U. S. carriers in action against Japan.

Naval Support Flees

Saipan's potential naval support was spent scurrying between Luzon and Formosa into the far China sea by carrier planes of this specialized group which sank one Japanese carrier, heavily hit three others and damaged a battleship and cruiser. In all, four enemy ships definitely were sunk and 10 others hard hit.

Last night, Adm. Chester W. Nimitz reported the invasion of Saipan, 1,500 miles from Tokyo but 3,800 miles from Pearl Harbor, was going well.

Supported by planes operating off captured Aslito airdrome and out-gunning the Nipponese on the ground, the Yanks drove ahead more than a mile on the east side of the island at Magicienne bay.

In the center, they were scaling 1,540-foot Mount Tapotchau. In the southeast tip, they had wiped out half of an unspecified total of trapped Japanese and seized 500-foot Mount Nafutan.

Tokyo Admits Landings

Today Tokyo conceded in a dispatch heard over the German radio that the Yanks are pouring ashore, along with heavy guns, on Saipan.

Assessing Monday's attack far to the west of Saipan on the Japanese fleet, Navy Secretary Forrestal said in Washington "our fleet did a magnificent job but the Navy is not going to be satisfied until the Japanese fleet is wiped out."

South of the western Pacific battle area, Gen. Douglas MacArthur announced today that an enemy merchantman in a 15-ship convoy near Palau has been sunk by a Liberator. Palau is a naval and air base which MacArthur's air arm has been assigned to keep from figuring in the Saipan operation.

2ND SON OF MARION WOMAN MISSING

Mrs. Ruth Veley Gets Second Notice in Three Months.

For the second time within three months a Marion woman has received word that a son has been reported missing in action.

Mrs. Ruth Veley of 336 East Church street was notified in a telegram from the war department that her son, Staff Sergeant Robert A. Veley, has been missing in action over Romania since June 6. Robert's elder brother, Technical Sergeant Richard Veley, has been missing in action over Italy since March 18, but Mrs. Veley did not receive the word until mid-April.

Robert is a radio operator and gunner on a B-24 Liberator bomber. The operation after which he was reported missing was carried out on June 6, fateful D-Day on the western front. Although he never lived in Marion he visited here last December while on furlough from Pocatello, Ida. His mother has lived here over a year.

Both of Mrs. Veley's sons were graduated from Urichsville High school, Richard in 1937 and Robert in 1939. Robert was employed by the Goodyear Aircraft corporation in Akron before entering service in January, 1943. He was first sent to Fort Myers, Fla., for gunnery training, and in March was transferred to Sioux Falls, S. D., for radio training.

His brother had just completed his radio course there and moved a week earlier to Las Vegas, Nev., for gunnery training. The only time the two had seen each other since Richard's induction in Oc-

Eden Reports Nazis Murder War Prisoners

By The Associated Press

LONDON, June 23—Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden told commons today the Germans had admitted killing 50 Allied officers at a German prison camp instead of the previously reported 47 and said "it is quite clear these officers were murdered."

The Germans in a communication sent to the British government claimed the RAF officers were shot while resisting capture after their escape from a war prison camp near Dresden March 25 or while attempting to make another getaway following their capture, Eden said. This was the same explanation which the Nazis previously offered Switzerland.

Flatly rejecting this answer to the mass killing, the foreign secretary said: "The explanation now put forward by the German government is in fact the confession of an odious crime against the laws and conventions of war."

Declaring the British government never would cease its ef-

Marion Factory Puts Bond Drive Over in Record Time

One of the quickest bond drives in Marion history was written into the records of the Fifth War Loan yesterday when employes of the Fairfield Engineering Co. pledged E bond purchases within a period of 15 minutes that represented 115 per cent of the quota for the company's workers.

The Fairfield bond drive was put over in record time at one of two industrial rallies yesterday, one in the Fairfield plant and the other a joint outdoor rally for employes of the Alloy Cast Steel Co. and the General Excavator Co.

At the conclusion of the Fairfield program in which two wounded fighting men took part, J. B. Bray, vice president of the company, summoned some of the girls to act as tabulators and started calling for pledges from workers. The Fairfield bond committee, mingling with other workers, encouraged the workers to announce their pledges. In 15 minutes it was all over, with the quota of an average of $100 per employe invested in war bonds topped by a comfortable margin. The company committee will continue to push sales throughout the Fifth War Loan drive.

Schoenlaub, chairman of the Marion county War Finance committee, Robert E. White, Fifth War Loan chairman, H. J. Grigsby, payroll savings chairman for the War Finance committee, and Kenneth E. Fields, treasury representative for the Fairfield drive, were introduced. Mr. Bray was in charge of the program, and it was at the close of the talks that he staged the quickly-completed pledge campaign. The rally was staged around an improvised platform, decorated in patriotic colors.

The Fairfield's Fifth War Loan committee is headed by C. O. Brown as chairman, Pete Louderback, Bob Gamble, Homer Hufford, Lowell Mitton, J. K. Rutherford, Robert Shackleford, James Creager, U. A. Nystrom and Mr. Bray.

Alloy, Excavator Rally

In the Alloy-General Excavator rally, held near the offices of the two plants, Electrician's Mate Roth and Pfc. Ralph both spoke, and Mr. Schoenlaub, Mr. White and Mr. Grigsby were introduced. Mr. Grigsby introduced by Edgar Barnhart, general manager of the General Excavator, presided for the remainder of the program. Following piano music by Miss Virginia Grover and a song by the group, led by Lloyd Pickering, reports were given showing that the General Excavator has reached 20 per cent of its quota to date and Alloy 55 per cent.

At the General Excavator, the bond drive is being conducted by George Jonsson. The Alloy bond committee, all of whom were introduced, includes John Makeever, E. P. Oiler, Virgil Garver, Don McWherter, Clyde Schrader, Ellis Oiler, Ed. Smeltzer, Don Penry, George Hutchinson and R. T. Mullett.

Today's Fifth War Loan Scoreboard in Marion County

Goal	$3,365,000.00
Sales Yesterday	35,006.25
Previous Sales	351,819.25
Total to Date	386,825.50
Yet to be raised	2,996,174.50

Sales to date include $306,131.50 in E bonds, 37 per cent of the county's $819,000 E bond quota.

INDIVIDUALS' BOND TOTAL $386,825

E Purchases Stand at 37 Per Cent of Quota.

Individual bond buyers, representing the infantry in Marion county's Fifth War Loan campaign, passed a milestone yesterday by reducing the amount of money still needed in the drive to less than $3,000,000. Yesterday's sales totaled $36,006.25, making a new total of $386,825.50 and leaving $2,978,174.50 to be raised.

The heavy artillery will be Monday when corporation and business purchases so far in the drive are counted into the campaign total for the first time.

Although the purchases by individuals the coming along steadily, leaders today sought new means of impressing upon Marion county residents individually the importance of "everyone" buying bonds and buying "as many as possible." All of June's E bond sales to date amount to $306,131.50 which 37 per cent of the $819,000 E quota. While the showing is good, it indicates that many thousands of persons in Marion county have not yet bought extra Fifth War Loan bonds, leaders pointed out.

Thirty-four more bond purchases totaling $3,287.50 came in yesterday through the residential phase of the campaign, in charge of civilian defense workers. The intensive phase of their campaign ended Tuesday night, but additional purchases are expected to come in for several more days. Yesterday's additions gave this division a new total of $53,471.75.

Bricker Books Three More Radio Addresses

CHICAGO, June 23 — Gov. Bricker of Ohio will make three more talks, two on nationwide radio hookups, before the Republican national convention opens Monday.

Tonight the candidate for the G.O.P. presidential nomination will talk on NBC from 11:15 to 11:30 (EWT). Saturday he will talk before the Chicago Bricker-for-president committee in the grand ballroom of the Stevens hotel at 8:15 p. m., and at 11:45 p. m. (EWT) he will go on the Columbia network for another 15-minute address.

REDS LAUNCH SUMMER DRIVE

Nazis Report New Russian Offensive Taking Shape on Central Front.

By The Associated Press

LONDON, June 23—Just over three years from the day they struck into Russia, the Germans reported today the opening of the Red army's long-awaited summer drive, an offensive which may be combined with the American-British invasion from the west for the crushing of Hitlerdom.

Ernst Von Hammer, chief military correspondent for the international information bureau, German propaganda agency, said in a Berlin broadcast the Russians had made "small local advances" between Mogilev and Vitebsk on the White Russian front—the most direct route from Moscow to Berlin. Announcement of the new Russian drive also was made by other German news agencies.

While making the usual claim that the Russian gains were sealed off promptly, Von Hammer said the Red army was using artillery and tanks on a grand scale.

There was no confirmation from Russian sources concerning the reported offensive. Three days after the allied landings in Normandy the Germans announced the opening of a new Soviet drive which did not materialize.

In the past German reports of Russian drives almost always have preceded those from Moscow.

An offensive developing along the Mogilev-Vitebsk line could be aimed almost straight west at Berlin, southwest by Warsaw about 420 miles away or northwest to lop off the Baltic states by cutting 250 miles to Riga.

It is certain the Russians are

YANKS CAPTURE ONE OF THREE FORTIFIED PEAKS AROUND CITY

By The Associated Press

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS ALLIED EXPEDITIONARY FORCE, June 23—Lt. Gen. Omar N. Bradley's finely tuned American assault troops have stormed over one of the three fortified peaks dominating Cherbourg's military harbor, supreme headquarters announced today, and speedy fall of the city is expected.

Describing Cherbourg's defenses as "fairly formidable," a headquarters announcement said a "prolonged siege is unlikely" now.

Attacking with a storm of artillery fire, and a huge array of instruments of destruction, the Americans captured a height at Tourlaville, four miles from the sea southeast of Cherbourg. The Germans had been reduced to machine-guns, small arms and light artillery in defending their pillboxes and prepared defenses.

Americans and Germans were so closely interlocked in the grim battle that allied air forces were unable to give the close battlefront the support that marked the opening of the all-out attack yesterday.

British and American planes concentrated on "quarantining" the battle area, hitting rail and road communications in a semi-circle 100 miles deep in France as the Americans clamped a vise on Cherbourg and smashed at the other two remaining hilltop bastions.

These were Nouainville, 2½ miles southwest of the port and three miles from the coast, and at La Mare A Canards, 1½ mile directly to the south of the city.

Three German divisions, mixed with German naval units and a defense garrison, were believed caught in the American clamp.

The Germans apparently had withdrawn completely from the eastern tip of the peninsula in order to concentrate on defense of Cherbourg.

A Canadian Press correspondent reported the Germans may have evacuated Caen, at the eastern end of the allied line in Normandy and dispersed their forces outside the city because of the terrific bombing to which the long-contested town had been subjected.

There was no confirmation at supreme headquarters of a German radio report that new allied air-borne landings had been made at Gavray east of Granville on the peninsula's west coast 60 miles below Cherbourg.

The Germans were making a desperate bid to hold the strategic port as long as possible. Everywhere fierce resistance was encountered, and a particularly vicious battle was being fought for control of the big airfield at Maupertus, five miles east of the city.

Inside the besieged port, the German garrison stood up stubbornly under yesterday's 1,000-plane assault on the forts and pillboxes comprising the city's defenses. The U. S. ground troops had to fight for every inch of their advance.

Small gains were registered around the port itself, but progress made on both the eastern and western sides of the peninsula.

Only slight German resistance was reported by American troops which cut off the eastern tip of the peninsula by capturing the road junction of St. Pierre Eglise and then driving two miles westward and taking Carneville within sight of the sea.

A report from the 21st army camp headquarters said this advance provided "strong indications" the Germans had abandoned that tip of the peninsula despite strong fortifications in the St. Vaast La Hougue area on the eastern coast.

On the western tip of the peninsula, the Americans went forward in the area of Beaumont Hague against scattered resistance cutting off whatever Germans are in that area.

Allied bombers and fighters attacked German gunposts and barracks on Alderney, one of the channel isles, only seven miles west of the tip of Cap De La Hague. This indicated some of the trapped Germans might be attempting to flee there.

Prisoner Bag Grows

The Allied prisoner bag was described at supreme headquarters as "well over" the 15,000 announced a few days ago for the period since the June 6 landings.

Bloody hand-to-hand fighting for Cherbourg was matched over two-thirds of France where the French underground is striking at the Germans on a dozen "inner fronts," tying up "several German divisions" in combat, a special communique from Gen. Eisenhower's headquarters reported.

The French patriots, the supreme command announced, have blocked movement of German troops against the bridgehead, have fought several pitched battles and even have occupied several towns in various parts of France.

The Americans drove a wedge south from St. Lo-D'Ourville in the direction of La Haye Du Puits, widening the corridor across the peninsula, for the only other gain on the American side of the Normandy front.

In the British-Canadian sector to the east the Germans struck with a tank attack two miles southwest of Tilly-Sur-Seulles,

Like Singapore, Cherbourg's Heavy Cannon Point Toward Sea, Aiding American Advance

By DON WHITEHEAD

WITH AMERICAN FORCES STORMING CHERBOURG, 10:33 A. M., JUNE 23—The battle for Cherbourg entered its second day with the Americans slowly battering their way forward against Gordan defenders knocked back into a last-stand trap.

Throughout the night American artillery crashed and machine-guns rattled as Lt. Gen. Omar N. Bradley's troops stormed concrete pillboxes and prepared defenses.

Six miles east of Cherbourg, near Gonneville, the Germans threw up their strongest defenses around Maupertus airfield and ammunition dumps. But most of their resistance was with small arms and machine-guns, only light artillery fire replying to the American guns.

Like Singapore's heavy rifles, Cherbourg's big guns pointed toward the sea.

A FORWARD ARMY COMMAND POST, SAIPAN, MARIANAS ISLAND, June 22—(Delayed)—The battle of the ridge is over. It was a small phase of the fighting to seize this strategic island but it gives an idea of what our troops have faced.

Two companies of riflemen were dug in on the slopes of the ridge about 1,000 yards southeast of Aslito airfield (now operating in American hands). They moved up out of canefields in squad rushes, in leapfrog fashion.

As advance groups started down into the shallow valley below, heavy machinegun and mortar fire was turned against them.

"When a mortar shell landed about 15 feet from me I hit the ground so hard I jarred myself," a sergeant remarked. "Then I dug, brother, with my hands."

There were six or seven enemy pillboxes about 100 yards away, said an infantryman.

Yanks Pinned Down

"But we didn't see them right off," he added. "Those Japs ploughed into us with machine-guns from those pillboxes, which were just little mounds of concrete covered with cane and dirt. I think their mortars were behind those pillboxes. Anyway, they pinned us down."

American machineguns opened up on the pillboxes to cover the daring advance of a small group of combat engineers. Bazooka shells whooshed against the earth mounds. Men pulled out rifle grenades. They forced the Japanese to stay away from the narrow pillbox vents.

One man, a charge of dynamite under his arm, dashed toward a pillbox. A few yards from the objective he was blown high into the air. The rest of the group was pinned down as another salvo of mortar shells dropped near them.

A staff sergeant rushed forward, finally, to a good firing position. He launched for rifle grenades. Two of them hit the pillbox. As he moved on against another pillbox a second sergeant tossed three grenades through a firing slit.

A technical sergeant led the platoon in the battle's final phase when its officers were inactivated. He directed his men in building up a line of fire and giving the wounded a chance to be evacuated. Then he pulled the men back in an orderly withdrawal from its untenable position.

The American line was pulled in temporarily—but only temporarily. Finally the pillboxes were eliminated and the battle was won.

MOTHERS' VOICE AT PEACE TABLE URGED

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, June 23—American mothers who have given their sons in the fight for freedom will "have a voice at the round table of peace," the founder of the Blue Star Mothers of America said today at opening sessions of the third annual convention.

"At the peace table, when the war lords are called to task for their crimes, American motherhood will have a voice," Capt. George H. Maines of Flint, Mich., declared. "Already efforts are under way to present our plans for peace, our views and our hopes to the men who will represent the United States of America at that all-important conference."

Capt. Maines extolled the Blue Star Mothers as "the only—and I repeat—the only organization in this country, made up of mothers, which has no ax to grind, no policy to push, and above all, owes allegiance to no organization or faction other than the United States."

The national organizer promised the convention that so far as "I am concerned, this policy shall continue."

More than 500 delegates from 37 states registered for sessions today, Saturday and Sunday.

"My Life as an Axis Prisoner"

Civilian Betrays Fleeing Allen

SECOND ATTEMPT—Twice Larry Allen took his life in his hands in attempting to escape captivity. His boldest move was jumping from a moving train. Here he is shown hiding by the tracks.

By LARRY ALLEN

(Associated Press War Correspondent, Recently Repatriated from a German Prison Camp. This is the second of three articles.)

Italy capitulated on September 8, after my return to the Chieti prison camp, and senior American and British officers interned there decided that, with Nazis swarming through the country, the wisest policy would be to sit tight and await the arrival of Allied troops.

Five days later, Nazi armor streamed into the high prison gates. Italian garrison troops donned white jackets and said the camp was a hospital. The Germans said they just wanted to look around.

Larry Allen

All that night the entire Italian garrison of 900 soldiers, fearing deportation to Germany for forced labor, deserted. They placed bedslat ladders against the 20-foot walls, clambered up while sentinels threw away their rifles and extended helping hands. Guards, posted to prevent the prison guards from fleeing, joined the exodus.

On Sept. 23, the Nazis took over Chieti and moved the entire camp to nearby Sulmona. The first night Americans and Britons started to escape. I was following a British officer under the barbed wire when a German machine pistol spit fire. The officer fell, mortally wounded. I fell flat until the firing ceased, then helped carry him to a doctor.

Three days later, I was placed aboard a railway coach for Germany. Hundreds of American and British enlisted men were herded into boxcars like cattle. During the three-day ride toward Germany, guards opened the boxcar doors at infrequent intervals.

Jump From Train.

South of Bolzano, high in the Alps near the Swiss frontier, I made my break for freedom. While an American distracted the attention of guards, I wormed my way to the rear of the coach, opened the door and jumped. The impact with the roadbed spun me around like a top and I was flung under the speeding train, quickly dragging my legs across the rail just before the next set of wheels passed over.

There, I lived the longest two minutes of my life—lying prone between the rails as the entire string of boxcars passed and dangling hose coupling links battered my body. My clothes were torn across the back and I was bruised and scratched.

Hunted by Planes.

As soon as the last car passed, I ran across the track, slid down an embankment into a swamp of murky quicksand. It took me two hours to get out of that. I learned later the Germans reported my escape at the next station and for the next five days I was hunted by Hitler youth groups and low-flying planes. Finally a civilian with a rifle grabbed me.

I was imprisoned in the village detention cell, a heavy stone windowless room, guarded by three steel doors.

Piles Are Never 'Mild'

DANGER IN NEGLECT

No one should ever think of piles (hemorrhoids) as a "mild" disorder.

Although they may seem a "mild" ailment, especially when not giving pain or inconvenience, piles are in fact tumor formations without tendency to heal themselves, instead, they are likely, if neglected, to keep increasing in size, involving more and more of the rectal area.

Even a so-called "mild" case may be expected to undermine one's health, by inviting, predisposing to or aggravating other ailments, such as: indigestion, biliousness, stomach trouble, constipation, headaches, pain in the back and down the legs, secondary anemia with its run-down tired feeling, and general nervous irritability.

Removal of piles is the only permanent relief. This can be done without knife, drugs or loss of time from work.

Funeral services will be held on Monday at 2 p. m. in the Emanuel Lutheran church with Dr. J. W. Schillinger of Columbus officiating. Burial will be made in Marion cemetery. Friends may call at the Boyd-Uncapher funeral home until 10 a. m. Monday and after 11 at the church.

Gentile Now Flying Army Jet Plane at Wright Field

By The Associated Press

DAYTON, O., June 23 — Capt. Don S. Gentile, Piqua ace, has been attached temporarily to the materiel flight command at Wright Field, where he is flying the new jet-propulsion Army plane, it was disclosed last night.

Gentile, who destroyed 30 Nazi planes in Europe as a pilot in the Mustang fighter escort group, has been piloting jet propulsion planes for "several days," said Col. F. W. Warburton, chief of the flight command section at Wright Field. Gentile came home on 30-day leave after fighting over Europe for three years, first with the Canadian air force and then with the U. S. Army air force, to which he was transferred when this country entered the war.

Colonel Warburton said there was no indication how long Gentile would be at Wright Field. By the time he receives new orders the flier will have become "well acquainted" with all phases of the new craft, his commanding officer said.

Gentile has not been flying the new plane only. He has been taking up other fighter planes and giving them a try-out. He has been flying the Thunderbolt, for one, which he seems to like very much, officers reported.

PRINCIPAL PROVISIONS OF SERVICE MEASURE

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, June 23—The measure, designated generally as the G. I. bill of rights and signed yesterday by President Roosevelt, covers generally both men and women who have served 90 days or more "in the active military or naval forces on or after Sept. 16, 1940, (date of the draft law's enactment) and prior to the termination of hostilities in the present war" and who have been released from service "under conditions other than dishonorable."

The measure includes a provision that whatever benefits the veterans receive under the "G. I." bill will be deducted from any adjusted compensation or bonus which may be voted.

The principal benefits include:

1. A flat weekly $20 unemployment payment. For each calendar month of active service the veteran will be entitled to four weeks of allowances. Payments will be limited to 52 weeks for the first two years after discharge, and will be denied to veterans who refuse "suitable" work.

2. A minimum of a year's education for veterans whose schooling was interrupted by the war, with the government paying up to $500 in annual tuition and other fees in addition to $50 monthly subsistence, plus $25 for dependents. The law presumes that education was interferred with if the veterans entered the service while 25 or younger. Those older ones will have to prove interference.

Maximum schooling, either in public or private colleges, universities, trade or business schools will be limited to four years, depending upon the veteran's length of service. He will select his own school, subject to veterans' administration regulations.

3. Government guaranteed loans by private and public lending agencies at not more than four per cent interest, repayable in 20 years. The government will guarantee loans for purchase and repair of homes, farms and small businesses up to 50 per cent of the principal provided the guarantee does not exceed $2,000, and the veterans' administration will absorb the interest for the first year on the amount guaranteed.

In cases where an original loan has been made or financed by a government agency, the veterans' administration may guarantee the entire amount of a secondary loan covering the required 20 per cent down payment on the purchase of a home.

4. Creation of a job-finding agency within the U. S. employment service, with the director of the veterans administration as chairman.

5. Authority for the veterans administration to spend $500,000,000 in construction of hospital facilities to provide for the care of returning service people.

The law gives the veterans' administration, which will administer all the benefits, the status of an essential war agency, entitled to priorities in personnel, equipment, supplies and materials second only to the war and navy departments.

Dewey Continues To Hold Lead in Poll of Mid-West

By GEORGE GALLUP
Director, American Institute of Public Opinion

PRINCETON, N. J., June 23—Republican voters in the great Mid-West farm belt of the United States—the East and West Central sections—continue to pick Thomas E. Dewey as their first choice for the presidential nomination at Chicago next week, a survey by the Institute shows.

Gov. Dewey has gained popularity in the West Central section as compared to eight weeks ago, but has lost some ground in the East Central section, which includes Ohio, the home state of Governor John W. Bricker. Gov. Bricker shows gains in both sections, his popularity as a candidate increasing by from two to four percentage points.

The situation in the two sections as convention time approaches is shown in surveys taken by the Institute among voters who express a preference for a Republican candidate. The line-up follows.

EAST CENTRAL SECTION
(Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Mich.)

Thomas E. Dewey	45%
John W. Bricker	21
Harold E. Stassen	4

WEST CENTRAL SECTION
(Wisconsin, Minn., Ia., Mo., Kan., Neb., S. Dak., N. Dak.)

Thomas E. Dewey	58%
John W. Bricker	8
Harold E. Stassen	15

SUBMITS PLAN FOR STRIKE ARBITRATION

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, June 23—The first specific, detailed proposal to write a strike-deterrent into steel wage contracts was offered today by W. H. Harvey, representing the Jones & Laughlin Steel Corporation, Pittsburgh, before the war labor board panel in the steel wage dispute.

The plan would establish a permanent salaried arbitrator who would be empowered to enforce the contract by imposing penalties upon the corporation, the union, or the employes found responsible for strikes.

Harvey proposed that the arbitrator fix the responsibility for any work stoppage and apply sanctions against offenders by declaring any employe participating in a strike shall be considered as having voluntarily quit.

Jap Fleet Routed Without Shot from Big Guns of U. S. Warships

... Chester Nimitz an...ed Jap plane losses were at ... and that 14 enemy ships ... sunk or damaged. Worden's ... was the first disclosure, ... however, that Guam was the site of the Sunday air battle in which ... enemy planes were downed. Guam is the southernmost and largest of the Marianas islands. (Also include Saipan.)

Our losses in the second phase—Monday—were moderate and a majority of downed airmen were rescued despite the hazardous return to carriers for night landings at sea. It was believed today the Japanese fleet has fled beyond the Philippines and that the threat of ship or sea-based plane action against our landing forces at Saipan has ended.

Turned Into Disaster

The first phase occurred June 19 when planes and anti-aircraft guns of Adm. Raymond Ames Spruance's fleet, within sight of Guam, turned the Jap attack into one of the war's greatest aerial disasters for the Axis. Enemy planes attacked from the west in long range flights from carriers, struck the American fleet with obvious intention of going on to Guam to refuel. Spruance, however, held the fleet near Guam all day and sent waves of bombers over Guam and Rota, and prevented enemy planes from landing on those islands.

He made it virtually certain no planes survived the aerial battle, which ranged over hundreds of miles of sea. The Jap planes which escaped our fighters and anti-aircraft almost certainly were lost attempting to return to their comrades which were out of fuel range.

Enemy personnel losses were almost 100 per cent, since the battles took place in an area controlled by Spruance's fleet and the Japanese could make no attempt at rescuing their pilots.

Naturally it was impossible to see much of the first phase, which was a series of encounters from 10 a. m. until dark, but part of the battle did rage within sight of the flagship.

Face Wall of Steel

The first action was the take-off of hundreds of American planes as the Japs were reported approaching. In a few minutes black puffs of anti-aircraft fire appeared over battleships on the horizon. The distant ships seemed wreathed in fire as multiple batteries threw up an unbelievable wall of steel.

Almost immediately bomb bursts spouted in the water and two enemy planes started burning in the air and crashed. Puffs of ack-ack thickened and spread until a quarter of the horizon was a polka-dot of smoke balls in the still-soundless battle.

The enemy was reported approaching from three sides. Vapor flowed from friendly planes climbing into the sky. The vapor trails intermingled and formed artificial clouds. The planes were visible only when sunlight flashed on their wings.

The first attack was repelled on the fringes of the fleet. An hour later more bombers appeared. One crossed our stern under intense AA and dropped one bomb. It missed. The bomber caught fire when the flagship's 44 mm. shells found it. The plane hesitated like a tired bird and fell slowly into the sea.

Japs Keep Coming

The fleet turned and twisted but other Japs came in. A battleship on the horizon appeared to have a continuous belch of flame from its guns, firing steadily for 20 minutes.

A torpedo bomber off our starboard quarter passed over frantic fire of destroyers without apparent hurt, but then he calmly banked over the waves and crashed wing down into the sea, afire.

Overhead the war in the clouds went on silently and invisibly, the guns of the ships drowning out that conflict.

Another torpedo plane flew over the destroyer and then died spectacularly, the destroyer blowing him apart. A wing came off and floated down like paper. The engine fell out flaming and the plane dived slowly as a torpedo fell out of its belly end over end.

Before noon the near battle was over. Ack-ack still dappled the horizons but no more planes came in. At 12:30 Spruance set the example by going to lunch.

New attacks hit the fringes of the fleet during the afternoon but the battle center moved toward Guam and Rota, where Americans caught the fueless Japs trying to land. There also were fighters there trying to protect the airfields and they were downed. On one Guam field only five planes remained next morning of more than a hundred which the Japanese had planned to have there.

At dusk the last American planes returned to the circling carriers and added up the incredible score—353 to 21.

Some of the downed American pilots later were picked up. Carriers worked until after dark easing stragglers onto decks.

One landing in full darkness was made on a carrier which proudly flew the lone star flag of Texas under the United States emblem. Doubtless the Japanese would have been confused about a new ally of the United Nations if any had lives to tell about seeing it. But none did.

By 10 p. m. there were no further alarms, nothing anywhere on the sea as the fleet rushed toward Japanese ships to the westward, nothing except occasional floating wreckage of what had been Nippon's sea-based aerial fleet.

PLAYGROUNDS OPEN TO ALL

Supervisor Emphasizes Facilities Are for Use of Young and Old.

Doubt among Marion adults concerning participation in activities sponsored by the Marion recreation commission was clarified today by Joe Petrich, city recreation supervisor.

Some Marionites believe that city recreation facilities may be used only by children whose parents are working during the day. This is not the case, according to Petrich, who stated that the "facilities and equipment are for all who wish to participate."

Petrich added that providing of recreation for children whose parents are working is one of the aims of the summer-long program but "not the sole one."

"The play ground is for the use of all children and adults of the community in which it is located. It is the hope of the Recreation commission, the supervisor and the directors of each of the playgrounds that all of the citizens, both young and old, will come to participate in the recreational activities presented," Petrich said.

Addition of teeter-totters and swings to the equipment at the Forest Lawn playground was a new development along the recreation front this week. Directors hope this new equipment will result in an upswing in attendance at the Forest Lawn center, which thus far has failed to attract as large numbers of boys and girls as five of the other six playgrounds in the recreation set up.

Supervisor Petrich added, "Our experiment at Forest Lawn will continue for awhile. If the addition of the swings and teeters doesn't aid in remedying the situation, then it is possible that an immediate change to Garfield park will be made."

BLU Net To Boost War Bond Drive Saturday

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, June 23—All-day broadcasting by the networks as part of the Fifth War Loan drive comes to a close tomorrow when the Blu's entire schedule is dedicated to the occasion.

The plan followed by the other networks will be used with the various programs calling attention to bonds. At least one special presentation, an hour's broadcast set for 2 p. m., will be made. Listed as "Bonds Away," it will be a general variety show with pickups from Pearl Harbor and London as well as from Washington's headquarters at Valley Forge.

Republican party leaders are to be heard in two week-end forums. Sens. Arthur H. Vandenberg of Michigan and Warren R. Austin will discuss foreign policy in People's Platform of CBS, switching to Chicago for its Saturday broadcast at 5:15 p. m.

Alfred M. Landon, Sen. Joseph H. Ball of Minnesota and Harold D. Laswell of the library of congress are scheduled for the University of Chicago roundtable via NBC Sunday when the topic is "Issues Facing the Republican party."

Assistant Pastor of St. Mary Church Begins New Duties

REV. FATHER E. J. M'NULTY

Father E. J. McNulty arrived here Thursday to take up his duties as assistant pastor of St. Mary Catholic church. He was graduated from Catholic Central High school in Springfield in 1936 and attended preparatory seminary at Mt. Washington and St. Mary seminary at Norwood, O., where he was ordained June 4. Father McNulty is a native of Urbana.

He is a cousin of Sister Mary Alice, a former teacher at St. Mary Parochial school. Another cousin, the Right Rev. Msgr. Walter A. Roddy, is rector of St. Gregory seminary at Cincinnati. Father McNulty is the eldest of seven children and has four sisters and two brothers in the armed forces overseas.

Father McNulty will assist Father William J. Spickerman, pastor of St. Mary church, and will also assist in work at St. Mary Parochial school. Father Lay, former assistant pastor, left June 13 to go to the Church of the Annunciation at Clifton, near Cincinnati.

PICNIC MEETING HELD

A picnic Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Minnie Philips of Hane avenue, closed the season for the Ladies Aid circle No. 6 of the First Presbyterian church. Devotions were led by Mrs. Ray Hamilton. A report was made on a recent rummage sale. It was also announced that dues were paid for the year ending April 1, 1945. The yearly programs were given out, following which Miss Madeline Wynn, director of religious education in the church, talked on plans for the coming year. Contests in charge of Mrs. I. E. Oberlander were won by Mrs. Hamilton and Mrs. Carl Schmidt. Guests were Mrs. E. A. Langwish, Mrs. Mary Chinnock, Mrs. Robert Rank and Miss Wynn.

U. S. WAR CASUALTIES NOW NEAR 250,000

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, June 23—American battle casualties are nearing the quarter-million mark.

Secretary Stimson reported yesterday that Army casualties through June 6 (which would include D-day) totalled 178,677, an increase of 7,513 over his report on June 8, which covered the period through May 31. The Army dead now total 31,363, an increase of 2,586. The new announcement put the 31,432 wounded, 29,916 missing and 33,989 prisoners.

A Navy casualty list announced yesterday reports an overall increase of 46,765, an increase of 849 since a list published two weeks ago. Those killed rose 20,041, an increase of 242. Wounded amount to 12,905, missing 9,295 and prisoners 4,441.

American Army ground forces fighting in Italy since the landings last September suffered casualties totalling 84,887 through June 15. This was an increase of 2,091 since a report last week which covered the period through June 5. The dead in the Italian campaign now total 11,619, an increase of 367. Wounded are 44,426 and missing 8,856. In the same period, air forces in this theater operating in Italy and in strategic missions deep into Europe have had 8,982 casualties, of which 1,156 are killed, 1,373 wounded and 6,453 missing. This was the first time air force casualties in the Italian theater have been announced separately.

Stimson, in announcing the casualty figures, said a previous front report from Normandy reporting 3,283 killed in the early stages of the invasion actually included missing as well as dead, but he did not disclose the number known to have been killed. The front report also reported 12,600 wounded.

Crestline Nurse Weds Portsmouth Seaman

Special to The Star

CRESTLINE, June 23—Tuesday afternoon at First Presbyterian Manse, Miss Ruth Perrot, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Levi Perrot, became the bride of Robert S. Moreland, Ph. mate, U. S. Navy, son of W. L. Moreland of Portsmouth. Rev. R. L. Alderton read the double ring service in the presence of the immediate families.

The bride graduated in 1940 from Crestline High school and entered nurses training at City hospital, Cleveland, completing her course there in 1943.

The bridegroom, following his graduation from Western Reserve university, enlisted in the U. S. Navy Saturday he returned from Alaska, where he has been located for 18 months. They left for a short trip.

Mrs. Heard Rites Held in New York

MRS. JOSEPH HEARD

Funeral services for Mrs. Major Joseph Heard were held June 15 at 10:30 a. m. in the Frank E. Campbell funeral church at Madison avenue and 81st street in New York City. Colonel Norman S. Marshall, chief secretary of the Salvation Army officiated. Mrs. Heard died suddenly at their home in Floral Park, Long Island, on June 12. Major and Mrs. Heard retired as head of the Marion Salvation Army Corps last September.

Last rites for Mrs. Heard were as follows: prayer, Mrs. Lt. Col. Claude E. Bates followed an organ prelude and song. A Scripture reading was given by Major Harold Zealley with a tribute presented by Mrs. Zealley. Tributes representing the family were given by Major Heard and a daughter, Mrs. Captain Allen Weyant.

A solo was sung by Envoy Frank Fowler. After Col. Marshall's service Major Frank Gibson offered benediction.

Burial was made in the Kensico cemetery in New York on the Salvation Army plot with committal service conducted by Lt. Col. Edwin Clayton. Mrs. Adjutant Charles Talmadge offered a prayer with her husband giving a Scripture reading. Major Zealley officiated at the final prayer and benediction period. The blowing of taps concluded the service.

Mrs. Heard, formerly Miss Florence Smith, became a Salvationist in 1893 in Keswick, Cumberland, England. She applied for officership with her husband from Titusville, Pa. Her duties in the corps as she worked with her husband took the family all over Pennsylvania, New England and Ohio, their last station being in Marion until her husband's retirement from active work last fall.

Surviving with Major Heard are three daughters, Mrs. Major E. Gibson, Mrs. Captain A. Weyant and Mrs. A. Radiech and one son, Adjutant Edgar Heard.

Wounded Marion Man's Condition Improving

Mrs. Lulu Kannel of 1022 Bennett street has received a letter from the office of Adjutant General Ulio, stating that her son, Pfc. Charles Kannel who was wounded in action in Italy May 14, is making "normal improvement." The letter did not make any further explanation and stated that when additional information about Pfc. Kannel's condition becomes available, she will be notified. Pfc. Kannel has been stationed with an infantry unit in Italy and has been in service 18 months, six of which have been spent overseas. He has two brothers in the armed forces. A detailed account appeared in The Star when Mrs. Kannel was notified that her son had been wounded.

Mayor Stewart Indorses Worldwide Cooperation

By The Associated Press

SARANAC INN, N. Y., June 23—Mayor James G. Stewart of Cincinnati, Republican nominee for governor of Ohio, last night said America must win an enduring peace by international cooperation, must provide jobs for returning servicemen and lead the way in an era of good will to help solve postwar problems.

Addressing the 57th annual conference of the New York state league of saving and loan associations, Stewart declared:

"We shall cooperate with, feed and help rehabilitate the world, but should not make ourselves a permanent relief organization or attempt to establish a universal WPA."

Monetary Program Not Expected To Be Adopted

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, June 23—The plan for monetary stabilization "which Secretary Morgenthau proposes to advance at the forthcoming conference at Bretton Woods," probably will fail to receive congressional approval, 21 Republican members of congress asserted last night.

The group, including two Ohio congressmen, Thomas A. Jenkins of Ironton and John Vorys of Columbus, said in a letter to the New York Times that participation in a program for restoring devastated countries "does not require an international stabilization fund at this time."

The Republican leaders suggested creation of an American reconstruction fund supervised by a board of directors which had been approved by the senate.

Three Years with a Mad Bear

WHATEVER special observance Hitler and his hirsute companions may contemplate to make on the third anniversary of their greatest mistake could be added as a postscript to "Three Years With A Mad Bear"—the Nazis' chance of conquest—and memoirs some Nazi will be free to write for the post-war book market.

"Mein Kampf," Hitler's great contribution to modern literature, reveals that Britain and Russian Communism were, next to the Jews, his pet phobias. It also reveals that he was smart enough to realize if he yielded to it without rowing up Germany's western front first, Germany would be in trouble. Hitler was right.

Presumably, greed for Russian resources and the wishful thought that Russia might be defeated before Germany turned back to chew up the British at the leisure of the super-race, prevailed over Hitler's caution. In any event, he gave the order to attack Russia three years ago, thereby sealing his doom.

The measure of events since then is the present fact that no one expects Germany to do anything on its eastern front this year, except fall back whenever Russia decides the time has come again to resume its offensive. The race for Berlin is from two directions. The Allies have been reaching it at will with their bombers, but it's still an even bet the Russians may reach it first with their armies. At least Hitler and his military geniuses have plenty to think about three years after they made their big mistake.

Capt. Lyttelton's Half-Truth

THE fact is, of course, that Capt. Lyttelton's remark about the United States forcing Japan into the war is one of those half-truths depending on what the speaker means for their full interpretation.

The United States did force Japan into the war, in the sense that it took a position against a Japanese policy of conquest of everything it wanted in the Pacific and Asiatic areas.

American policy forced Japan to resort to violence in the same way that society's stand on burglary forces a burglar to use violence to get what he has decided to take.

As long as Japan remained committed to aggression, it was in conflict with the United States. This government's aim, up to Pearl Harbor, was to give Japan a chance to retreat from aggression without loss of face, but it turned out that the Japanese were in no mood to retreat. They launched the attack on Pearl Harbor, and the war was on. Eventually, they would have launched it somewhere else—eventually, unless they reversed direction, they had to fight the United States—but the point is that they opened the fighting. If Capt. Lyttelton had said what he meant, he wouldn't have given our Anglophiles a chance to engage in their savage pastime of biting chunks out of the British lion's tail.

Reconversion for Distillers

IT WILL be noted with raised eyebrows by many other enterprises in this country asking permission to switch over temporarily to civilian production that whisky distillers are first to get a major break.

The permission their industry has obtained to resume whisky making during August on a scale giving them the equivalent of three months of a normal year's output is limited reconversion, but in a scale so much greater than anything in sight for the ordinary run of industry that there is no comparison.

Aside from explaining that relief for distillers is made possible by easing of the industrial alcohol situation, chiefly the synthetic rubber program, WPB has made no comprehensive explanation of its decision. That is, it has not explained whether the limited reconversion it is authorizing for whisky distillers represents a policy for civilian production in general, or whether it is dictated by the peculiar situation of the distilling industry.

That situation's peculiarity consists, of course, of the relation between taxation and public demand for whisky. The tax on whisky was never higher, and the demand never was greater, a combination of circumstances which probably makes it a lot easier to give the distilling industry a green light than to perform the same favor for, say, the infant diaper industry, also pinched by a rising demand and a failing supply—but not in a position to produce huge sums of revenue for the government.

So They Say—

The greatest and perhaps the only perfect gift that we can give to the world is the gift of ourselves at our best, and that means not just the skill of our hands and the cunning of our brains, but our dreams, our fines' resolutions and most solemn promises to ourselves.—Capt. William N. Thomas, U. S. navy.

International law has for all practical purposes disappeared from the face of the earth and in its place stands the animal dictate of expediency.—FEA Administrator Leo T. Crowley.

Some folks in this hour would like to have a little inflation for themselves and lots of them are for stabilizing the other fellow. More dollars in your hand don't mean more wealth to you.—Economic Stabilization Director Fred M. Vinson.

News Behind the News

Nazis Only Tough in Spots; Japanese Morale Believed Slipping Rapidly.

By PAUL MALLON

WASHINGTON, June 23—Morale of the Nazi fighters encountered in France is mixed. There were some crack units of the young and fervid Hitlerites, but interpersed with these were many poor and many alien units.

The quality of non-Nazi forces sent to Germany included a few veteran fascists from all the countries of Europe, but most were there fighting for the money or were forced into service. As a whole they were definitely third rate.

Time is of highest importance because the war now has become a taut rubber band. It is being constantly stretched farther and farther. It is impossible to say exactly when and where it will break, but the break will be forced by the symptoms of weakening morale. And it is at least clear now Nazi fighting power is no more than a patchwork.

Only Tough in Spots

This measure also gives the over-all picture of the battle. Only at certain points was the conflict tough, but at these points our casualties were heavy. The German offered two strong tank battles against the British at Caen and Tilly. These attacks were repulsed, and the British were repulsed before they were able to retake Tilly.

At Montebourg and Carentan in the American sector, we encountered costly fighting. At Montebourg our men were driven back by superior power, yet in the end were able to retake the town.

The famed Ninth Division, which cut across the Cherbourg isthmus, fought this isolated bitter engagement. The Nazis had cleverly defended orchards, wooded hills, and particularly hedges along the roads. After we had spanned the isthmus the going was easier, but we had trouble at Valognes. The Germans tried hard to fight their way out of the Cherbourg entrapment, but 25,000 or more remnants of three divisions were finally bottled.

Distinguished Division

The Ninth Division earlier had distinguished itself in the difficult and dangerous advance down that northern highway of Sicily where blown tunnels and bridges high above the sea impeded their path, and also fought well in Tunisia. While others may claim credit for having pushed the isthmus cutting drive halfway across, it was the Ninth alone which finished the task.

While Cherbourg is destroyed, it will be no more difficult for us to use than was Naples. There, we were able to re-establish docking facilities in an amazing few days.

In short, the Nazis now are tough only in spots.

In the Pacific also, Jap morale is being noticeably stretched. If she had any airplane production comparable to ours, we would not have dared go into Saipan. The bulk of what she has, is concentrated in southern Japan, for home protection, and in North China.

The shock of losing 300 naval planes in our first landing operation was a terrific blow, the extent of which could be detected in the Jap broadcasts. Their radioed accounts to their people seemed to have an apologetic tone, promising, for instance, that "the importance of Saipan will not be overlooked."

Few Land Planes

But she would not have used these navy planes if she had had what she primarily needed for the defense of Saipan—land-based air armadas stationed at the nearby islands she controls. In Burma and South China, she likewise has not been able to show much strength above ground, and everyone knows the extensive losses to her ocean shipping.

The desperateness of her situation is evident also behind the fact that she had to send her fleet to contest our Saipan operations. She could well risk her entire sea battlepower at that point, for if we get Saipan and establish our land-based bombers there, we can reduce the nearby bases of Tinian (just about as well fortified as Saipan), Guam and Yap. Defense of her homeland or her shipping routes against those bases would be impossible.

Consequently, authorities here have scaled forward their various estimates as to when Japan will crack. The average estimate is that she will not last long enough to suffer the final concentration of our fleet and air force after the defeat of Germany, but will surrender before these forces destroy her.

Author of the Week

By John Selby

Associated Press Book Reviewer

AFTER you finish Robert Parker's "Headquarters Budapest" (and you will finish it if you start) you may have in your mind a picture of a youngish newspaper man spitting on his hands and whaling into his typewriter, determined to put down what he really thinks about southeastern Europe no matter what happens. There is an enormous amount of gusto in Mr. Parker's book, and an overwhelming amount of interesting fact.

After five years in western Europe, Parker went to Budapest in March, 1939, to supervise the Balkan beat for The Associated Press. In the spring of 1942 he went to Turkey for the OWI, and there he stayed until a few months ago. It seems likely that he slept with his ears functioning, for he has collected more material than many a man would pick up in a lifetime, and a good half of it is new to most American readers.

Parker saw first hand the way in which Germany played off the Balkan powers against each other, and the way in which those same powers imitated this juggling for themselves. It makes a dizzy story, but he has kept it straight. More, he was fortunately not confined to one section of his territory, but could dash into Poland one day with the German army and flit to Bulgaria the next. His meetings with the key men of the Balkans were numerous, sometimes productive, sometimes not. He has not tried to pretent the sour notes were sweet, which is refreshing.

Moreover, in this most corrupt of all territories, he took pains to note down the time-servers and grafters. Both Lupescu and Mme. Antonescu have stolen millions from Rumania, he says, and tells how. The personal feuds and personal habits of dozens of officials explain much of their public careers, and these too are in "Headquarters Budapest."

Finally, Parker has brought out an idea. It is that this country had better take steps now to make sure that after victory Rumanians, Bulgarians, et al., are allowed to form governments really representative of the people, and not of the old ruling cliques. Otherwise the tinderbox will ignite once more.

Election Money

The Hatch acts of 1939 and 1940 forbid any "political committee" to receive or spend more than $3,000,000 in any one calendar year. But a number of political committees always operate in an election. There was spent in behalf of the national Republican ticket in 1940 almost $15,000,000; in behalf of the national Democratic ticket, more than $6,000,000. Senator Gillette (D), of Iowa, chairman of the 1940 senate committee on campaign expenditures, estimates that an additional $10,000,000 was spent on candidates for congress or local office.

The Hatch acts forbid single contributions of more than $5,000 to any national political committee. But this does not forbid many contributions of the same amount to state and local committees, which inevitably function in behalf of the national ticket in a presidential election year. Also, a contributor may transfer funds to members of his family to contribute. Several wealthy families contributed heavily in this way in 1940.

Sen. Gillette is sponsoring bills to limit all expenditures by all political bodies in a campaign to a total of $2,000,000 for a president and $1,000,000 for a vice president, and to limit individual contributions to an over-all total of $10,000. In Great Britain the trades disputes act of 1927 forbade any union to assess a member for political contributions unless he expressly agrees to be so assessed.

Islands Improved

By The Associated Press

NISSAN, South Pacific — The Green islands, after four months of Allied occupation, have become a south Pacific paradise despite the Japanese on islands encircling the group.

Day and night, combat and transport planes take off from the air strips dominating the center of Nissan, largest of the seven islands in the group.

The weather is moderate. Picturesque natives clad in red, green and blue skirt-like coverings add color to the scene. Flight nurses make brief daily stops.

Miles of jungle were leveled for airstrips and camps. But there's enough jungle left to provide a south seas backdrop.

IN ALL plans for the final grand assault on German-held Europe, a primary consideration is the capacity of ports. Months ago, army service forces estimated that to keep 500,000 men supplied with food, replacements, fuel, medical supplies, construction and transportation equipment, ammunition and motor maintenance would require 750,000 ship tons a month—equivalent to the full loading of 68 Liberty ships, or better than two a day.

Business Week, commenting on the vital necessity of ports large enough to handle the incredibly large flow of supplies that will be needed to support full-scale invasion forces, names five which are completely adequate for all purposes. These are Nantes, Brest, Boulogne, Calais and Antwerp. It explains that Cherbourg, while one of the world's 25 great ports, is susceptible to blocking, as also are the harbors of St. Nazaire, St. Brieuc, Caen, Ostend, Rotterdam, Amsterdam, Emden and Bremen.

Likeliest solution of the shipping problem, if Cherbourg can be taken, will be quick construction of new facilities adequate for the job, Business Week believes. For a half million men based on one port there must be 4,000,000 square feet of open storage and 3,500,000 square feet of covered storage. Docks must be ready to receive ships bearing heavy locomotives. In North Africa, the initial task force took 187 locomotives, 1,200 boxcars, 1,000 flat cars, 650 gondolas and 200 tank cars; operations in France will be on a much larger scale.

An adequate wartime port must have deep-water tidal basins with facilities for large ships. The port of Dunkerque, for example, lacks sufficient depth in its outer harbor to float fully loaded Liberty ships. At Cherbourg, an outer roadstead with a low-tide depth of 42 feet will take ocean-going vessels, but access to the inner roadstead where the low-tide depth is only 30 feet is by a 1,640 foot passage susceptible to blocking.

Business Week points out that if the giant ports of Belgium and Holland could be taken without too much sabotage to overcome in the wake of retreating Germans, the Allies' problem of supply would vanish.

Battle of Micronesia

THE Marianas (Ladrones) islands, where United Nations forces have landed, were the richest and most populous of the wide-spreading Tokyo - ruled island empire of Micronesia before the war, say National Geographic society.

The 14 islands occupy a key position in the great battle of Micronesia. Saipan, the capital island, lies about 1,500 miles south of Tokyo and 3,300 miles west of Honolulu. Guam, largest and southernmost of the group, was a United States possession but is now occupied by the Japanese.

Since the Marianas were transferred from German ownership to Japanese mandate after the first World war, the steep and fertile land spots have been a principal goal of Japanese settlement. Sugar was the chief reason for the Japanese influx. Sugar cane thrives on Saipan, Tinian and Rota, the three most important islands of the archipelago.

The Marianas stretch in a north-south direction for almost 400 miles between 13 and 21 degrees north latitude, and therefore are fully within the tropics. Rainfall and humidity are high.

Magellan discovered the Marianas in March, 1521, when he sighted Rota and Guam and landed on Guam. When natives attacked his ship, he sailed away safely, but expressed his hard feelings at the reception accorded him by naming the islands Las Islas de Las Ladrones (Isles of Thieves). This name still is applied to the islands, although the official name is the Marianas, for Queen Maria Ana of Spain. That ruler sent missionaries there in 1668, only a few years after the islands had been proclaimed a Spanish possession.

The Once Over

By H. I. PHILLIPS

Why, Doctor!

A CHICAGO doctor, the new president of the American Medical association, says vitamin is being overdone. The people of America couldn't be sick enough to need all the vitamin pills that are being made and sold every year, he declares.

The doctor doesn't belittle some very good work being done by vitamins A, B C (and all on down the alphabet), but he says it is time to halt excessive claims. We are with the medico. Too many claims are being made. Vitamins will do everything up to and including the recordbreaking of a hair sofa, the eliminating of birdshot wounds and the lifting of fallen arches.

"Try a bottle of this remarkable pale ale tonight," says the radio voice, "and get the important vitamins that will cure general debility, cross-eyes, low blood pressure, measles and cigaret breath."

* * *

"Do you sometimes feel a little below par?" says another airwave pleader. "Are there moments when you are not the life of any gathering? Rush out now and buy a loaf of McSwiggley's bread, so full of vitamins that you will never again know what it is to feel off form."

You no sooner swallow that one than an announcer shouts, "Begin wolfing these remarkable gumdrops today. Full of vitamins A, B C D and E, they will put you in such shape that you will never know a day's illness!"

* * *

Then to top it off comes one of those jingles:

Would you be a fine American—
A credit to the land?
Buy Superdooper Nuttybars,
And chew to beat the band!

It's being overdone to a point where thousands of Americans who really need vitamins get sore at the very mention of them.

Elmer Twitchell thinks there is a fortune in it for the maker of any American product who will go on the air with the simple statement to the unpitied audience:

"I offer you this product with no claim whatever except that it is the best I know how to produce. I'm not quite sure myself just what health-giving properties are in it. All I want the public to know is that whatever vitamins may be involved are entirely accidental."

But Mr. Twitchell may be biased. He fell badly for a brand of animal crackers sold to him on the representation that it had a vitamin that would eliminate buckteeth, cure a charley horse and add twenty yards to his drive.

Reading Aloud

By Truman Twill

The conversation switched around to reading aloud, with special reference to the art of reading aloud to children.

It was agreed that it must be an art, because everybody had experienced the same thing. Their children simply walked out on all mediocre performances, finding them too dull to endure any longer.

It also was agreed that such books as are commonly used for reading aloud to children are now in such stiff competition with the far more dramatic things happening from day to day that they have little to offer in the way of excitement. Old standbys like, "Robinson Crusoe" and "Swiss Family Robinson" can't hold a candle to newspaper and magazine accounts of things actually happening every day on the world's frontiers and battlefronts.

King Arthur's Knights of the Round Table buckled up in their tin suits and trying to joust horse each other with clothes-poles are tame stuff to kids who read about aviators shooting each other with cannons and machineguns from miles above the earth in mechanized contraptions zipping along at 400 miles an hour. Robin Hood is a minor leaguer compared to the kid from the neighborhood who went ashore with the marines at Tarawa.

Even good old Tom Swift, Superman to the kids of a previous generation, now looks like a bush leaguer, and Horatio Alger's stuffy young heroes all lived lopsided lives and are little more than monstrosities in the eyes of today's rising generation of ultra-progressives.

Someone mentioned he had been reading Dickens to his offspring, not so much because he was being well received by his audience but because he was enjoying it himself. "Oliver Twist," he explained, was the current offering and it was interesting to discover how much insight Charles Dickens had into the psychology of crime and juvenile delinquency.

But a generation makes a lot of difference because the same things are an affront to the social conscience of the listener. He wanted to know why poor Oliver didn't draw himself a pension, why his mother hadn't fixed up some insurance and why, when her bewildered son hit London on his first trip to town he didn't head for a welfare agency, instead of falling in with bad company. Also why the municipal authorities didn't do something about slum clearance and juvenile delinquency.

The consensus was that there aren't any books suitable for reading aloud to children any more. The sweet ones are too sappy and the others are too oldfashioned. Even "Tom Sawyer" lacks the tame life in the opinion of kids looking forward to owning their own airplanes. Time has rolled along and left literature in the lurch. And even if the books were available, they couldn't compare with the high-powered auditory appeal of the radio. For better or worse, it looks as though reading aloud has gone out of style, along with family prayers and apples and popcorn around the fire on winter evenings.

That's the spirit of our fighting men
Let's match it in the 5TH WAR LOAN

LOOK AT that insignia—adopted by one of our fighting outfits as a symbol of their fighting spirit. It means our men are ready for anything—anywhere . . . anytime . . . anyhow . . . bar nothing!

What about you? Are you ready to match that spirit to win with your War Bond purchases?

You couldn't put your money on a better fighting man. Now, as our forces face the biggest job they have ever been called upon to do—the job of invasion—they need your help more than ever.

We know they'll fight—all out, all the way.

And that's how they'll expect you to buy War Bonds in this crucial drive—all out, all the way.

So let's lend the way we know they'll fight. Anywhere! Anytime! Anyhow! BAR NOTHING! And that means EXTRA War Bonds—Now. Double—triple—your usual extra War Bond purchases. That's the way to put the "V" in invasion! That's the way to match the fighting spirit of our invasion troops.

Mrs. Thomas Coon entertained the Victoria club Wednesday night at her home on Oak Grove avenue. A letter was read from Mrs. Paul Barrett, a former member now living in California. Mrs. Charles Kirk, who is leaving soon to join her husband who is in the service, was presented a gift from the club. Awards in cards were won by Mrs. James Gorenflo and Mrs. Evelyn Curtis. Mrs. John Edington assisted the hostess in serving lunch.

Weddings

Miss Eveleen Thompson, daughter of R. G. Thompson of 506 Avondale avenue and Walter W. Grubaugh, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Grubaugh of 579 West Columbia street were united in marriage Saturday in Trinity Methodist church at Mt. Gilead. The double ring ceremony was performed at 11:35 a. m. by Rev. L. Eugene Rush, pastor of the church. They were unattended.

For her wedding, the bride chose a street length dress of eggshell crepe with which she wore navy accessories. Her flowers were talisman roses and purple delphinium, which she wore as a shoulder corsage.

That evening the couple was entertained with a dinner at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Fred Bender of 446 Reed avenue. Decorations were in the bride's colors of orchid and yellow and a three tiered wedding cake centered the table. Following the dinner, Mr. and Mrs. Grubaugh left for a short wedding trip. They will make their home at 506 Avondale avenue.

Mrs. Grubaugh was formerly employed at the News shop on East Center street. Mr. Grubaugh is a machinist at the Universal Cooler Corp.

Marion Soldier, British Woman, Exchange Vows

MRS. WINFRED B. NILES

Word has been received here of the marriage of a Marion soldier to an English woman April 10 in England. The marriage ceremony united Sgt. Winfred Bishop Niles, son of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Niles of 776 East Mark street and Miss Maisie Roberts, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Roberts of Elm Lodge, Thorpe road, Great Clacton.

The bride, who is serving with A. T. S. wore her uniform and was given in marriage by her brother, Pilot Officer John Roberts of the R. A. F. Sgt. Douglas Miller of Utah was the bridegroom's best man and many men of Sgt. Niles' unit were present.

A reception followed the ceremony and the bridegroom's company were hosts to the bride's family at a lunch and dinner, followed by a dance at the Co-operative Hall, Stowmarket.

Sgt. Niles graduated from Harding High school in 1942 and was employed with the Erie until entering the service in October of 1942. He has been overseas since August 1943, and is now stationed with the quartermaster corps. After the war, the couple plan to make their home in Marion.

Miss Ruehrmund, Cpl. Robert Kreis Vows Announced

MR. AND Mrs. E. S. Ruehrmund of northwest of Cardington are announcing the marriage of their daughter, Mary Anna, to Cpl. Robert Kries, son of Mrs. Harley Heimlich of Cardington. The ceremony was performed at the close of church services in the Zion Lutheran church in Brentwood, Pittsburgh, Pa., on June 11. Rev. N. L. Baseler, uncle of the bride, officiated.

For her wedding, the bride wore a dress of blue crepe, trimmed in white. She wore white accessories and a corsage of pink roses. They were unattended.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Kreis are graduates of Cardington High school. Mrs. Kreis is secretary of the Richland Advisory Council of the Marion county Farm Bureau. She is employed in the office of the National Farm Loan association. Cpl. Kreis is stationed at Fort Worden, Wash. He returned Tuesday to Washington after a 15-day furlough.

PLEASANT TP. CLUB MEETS

Rev M. C. Schellhase discussed the program topic, "June Brides," at a meeting Wednesday afternoon of Pleasant Township Farm Women's club at the home of Rev. and Mrs. Schellhase on the Delaware pike. Members answered roll call with descriptions of "My Wedding Dress." Miss Irma Jean Hensel, a guest, played a piano solo. Mrs. Ralph Hager assisted the hostess in serving refreshments. A family picnic will be held July 16 at McKinley park.

PIN-WORMS
Now can be Beaten!
The miseries of Pin-Worms have been known for centuries, and many doctors have sought a way to deal with this dreadful pest that lives and grows inside the human body.
Today, thanks to an important scientific discovery, a new and highly effective treatment is being hailed by medical authorities. It is based on a remarkable drug known as gentian violet. This drug is the vital element in P-W, the new Pin-Worm tablet developed by the laboratories of Dr. D. Jayne & Son, America's leading specialists in worm medicines.
P-W makes it unnecessary for you or your child to suffer in silence with the embarrassing rectal itch caused by Pin-Worms, or to take chances on the real distress they often create. The small, easy-to-take P-W tablets act in a special way to destroy Pin-Worms.
So watch for possible warning signs such as: itching seat and nose, uneasy stomach, bed-wetting, nervous fidgeting. If you suspect Pin-Worms, ask your druggist for a package of P-W and follow the simple directions carefully.
It is easy to remember: P-W for Pin-Worms!

CLARIDON CLUB MEETS

Mrs. Nate Sexton entertained the Claridon Progressive Farm Women's club Wednesday afternoon at her home on the Edison road. Mrs. Gail Van Gordon had charge. Devotions were led by Mrs. Charles Smith. The program was in charge of Mrs. Clay Smith. The following took part in a playlet called "You Said It, Ladies": Mrs. Charles Smith, Mrs. Clay Smith, Mrs. Robert Bauer, Mrs. Grace Rettberg, Mrs. Van Gordon, Miss Mary Lou Van Gordon and Mrs. Gloria Lasney. "Crossing the Bar" was read in memory of the deceased members. Mrs. Adam Schweinfurth of Reading, Pa., a former member, gave a talk. Out of town guests were Mrs. Schweinfurth of Reading, Mrs. Frank Kelly of Columbus and Mrs. Jack Fisher and son Jack of Dayton.

Marion Couple's 50th Anniversary To Be Celebrated

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Hoover of East George street will celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary Sunday, June 25. They will attend high mass at 9 a. m. at St. Marys Catholic church. A family dinner will be served at the home, and in the afternoon they will receive their friends from 2:30 to 7 p. m.

Mr. and Mrs. Hoover have spent their entire lives in this city. They were married at the St. Mary rectory by Rev. Father Molloy. Their attendants were Mrs. Catherine Fitt Coleman of Crawfordsville, Ind., and the late William S. O'Brien. They are the parents of five daughters, five grandchildren and two great grandchildren. Their daughters are Mrs. John Lusch of Homer street, Mrs. Henry McMurray of Pine Bush, N. Y., Mrs. Carmen Cox of Dayton, Mrs. Faydell Welch of Patterson street and Sister Mary Sheila, music instructor in Royal Oak, Mich.

Mr. Hoover is a retired railroad man, having worked for the Erie railroad for 35 years.

Shower Given For Bride-To-Be of Navy Lieutenant

Miss Donna Ruth Sinning, who will become the bride of Lt. (j.g.) Norman W. Fogt, Saturday evening at 8:30 o'clock, was complimented with a kitchen shower recently at the home of Mrs. Floyd Welsh of 392 South Vine street. The guest of honor was directed to her gifts by original verses which were hung from the chandelier by pink ribbons. She was also presented a corsage by the group.

The evening was spent playing cootie. Honors were won by Mrs. Harry Baldauf and Mrs. Matilda Sinning.

The bride's colors of pink and aqua were carried out in the table decorations. Place favors were picture hats made from paper doilies.

Personal Mention

Mrs. P. F. Roth of the Edison road has as her guests three of her daughters, Miss Florence Roth of Pontiac, Mich., Mrs. Charles DeVore and daughter Ann Carolyn of Garden City, N. J., and Mrs. William Hilling, her husband and daughter Margaret Ann of Des Moines, Ia.

were lost and six German planes were shot down.

These were the highlights of yesterday's operations:

1—More than 1,000 U. S. medium and light bombers and fighter-bombers pounded the last wall of Naziz fortifications separating American ground troops from the Cherbourg waterfront.

2—250 U. S. Flying Fortresses and Liberators, and hundreds of big British Lancasters and Halifaxes, blasted the Pas De Calais rocket bomb emplacements. British heavy bombers, normally used in night operations, flew out in midafternoon for the first time since 1942.

3—750 U. S. heavy bombers escorted by 500 fighters made an evening attack at rocket bomb emplacements, airfields, bridges, transformer stations, railway workshops, sidings and fuel tanks over a wide area. Railway yards at Lille, France, and Gent, Belgium also were hit.

4—U. S. Ninth air force Marauders, Havocs and Thunderbolts raided Alderney island, eight miles west of Cap De La Hague, near the tip of the Cherbourg peninsula, and also hit German field headquarters, fuel dumps and railroads behind the Normandy front.

Russians Hit Finns on Three Fronts

By The Associated Press

LONDON, June 23—Russian troops pounded the Finns on three fronts in savage fighting yesterday, scored new advances and took a heavy toll in enemy killed and captured, Moscow announced today.

From the northern tip of Lake Onezhskoe (Onega), Red army units rolled 10 to 15 miles westward in the direction of Lake Ostero and cleared a section of the Leningrad-Murmansk railway by capturing three important stations.

To the south along the Svir river the Red army expanded its bridgehead to a depth of at least six miles on the river's north bank, and captured Podporozhye, a district center of the Leningrad region.

North of Viipuri on the Karelian isthmus Marshal Leonid A. Govorov's conquering army captured Tali, five miles north of the fallen seaport, as well as several other places in the flourishing farming and manufacturing belt that extends toward Helsinki, the Finnish capital.

Govorov's right flank was hitting toward the rail and highway center of Lappeenranta (Villmanstrand), 30 miles northwest of Viipuri. Capture of Lappeenranta would sever the Finns' main communications with their forces, estimated at 100,000 men, in the area of Lakes Ladoga and Onezhskoe, for the northeast.

An indication of the fierce fighting was given in the Moscow communique, which said a single unit in the Svir offensive wiped out 450 men, while another unit on the Karelian isthmus killed 800 of the enemy.

ASSERTS METHODIST RURAL PROGRAM POOR

By The Associated Press

LAKESIDE, O., June 23—Adequate rural religious instruction provides a challenge to the Methodist church, asserts Dr. Paul E. Secrest, superintendent of the denomination's Youngstown district.

In an address last night before northeast Ohio conference of the Methodist church, Dr. Secrest noted "forty-six per cent of all Methodists live in rural areas.... yet they have the poorest paid preachers and are the first to be left without ministers."

"Many pastors throughout the conference are taking added responsibility to serve these small churches," the superintendent declared in presenting the annual report of the district superintendents. "Means of financing adequate rural work is a challenge to Methodism."

The Rev. Roger Ortmayer of Madison predicted a post-war return of population to the rural areas, and in presenting the town and country commission report urged the conference to take steps to provide adequate religious facilities.

Dr. E. R. Brown, Cleveland district superintendent, was elected chairman of the conference board of hospitals and homes, succeeding Dr. Virgil Turner of Delaware who resigned. Wayne McQueen and T. J. Slach of Cleveland, Schuyler Garth of Youngstown, J. W. Galbraith of Mansfield and J. R. Cheney of Akron were named to the board of trustees of Lakeside associatoins.

George R. Kelin of Cleveland, Dr. Secrest, John Profser of Akron, H. W. Courtney of Elyria and Kenneth Pope of Canton were appointed Lakeside foundation trustees.

Cultured Pearl
June birthstone
Cultured pearls are those grown scientifically in living oysters. The method used is to insert a bead as a nucleus or "irritant" in the oyster, which is then lowered to a specially prepared bed in the bottom of the tropical sea.
It takes from three to five years to make a cultured pearl. The layers are similar in structure to those of the Oriental or natural pearl. And upon the total thickness of these layers depends much of the beauty and value of the cultured pearl.

In and Around Marion

Feathy Dish

The following item was submitted by Miss Miriam Moses, a member of the Harding High faculty:

"One of our local teachers, during her vacation cooking and keeping an apartment clean, made this: she was fixing mashed potatoes for dinner. Then she had slipped them in the oven and was making a mental list of the ingredients, the next day cook was horrified to learn that she had substituted baking powder for flour. P. S.—threw the dish away.

Patriotic Touch

One Marion merchant has gone patriotic in a new way. He displays in his store window a group of colored mops with red, white and blue strings.

Youthful Revolt

Children's day and Vacation Bible school programs bring to mind children's programs of earlier days. A few years ago in another town a young gentleman who had a role in the Harding High school senior play recently and who has now enlisted in the U. S. Marine corps, was scheduled to "speak a piece." He decided it was either beneath his dignity or that it was not appropriate. When his turn came on the program he flatly refused to recite. His mother coaxed, then threatened. When she would not persuade she proceeded to spank him right before the amused audience!

Youthful Pastimes

Seems as though the pastimes of youngsters never change radically. Not long ago we saw a couple of boys with a long stick fishing through a grating in hopes the nickel below would stick to the wad of chewing gum that adorned the pole. A few days later while walking up the courthouse walk we had to sidestep a little girl who was having the time of her life playing jacks. We think the sound effect accompanying some of the various games of the present are really all that have changed. Now the boys run around with a machine gun shooting it with a vengance and yelling, "ah-ah-ah-ah" and a few years ago the boys ran around yelping, "Hi-yo Silver, a-waaaay" and ending up with a blood curdling screech.

How They're Anchored

For the benefit of the male sex who marvel at how those half-hats stay put that are seen on Marion streets these days, here's the inside dope fellows, most of them have a steel spring that conforms to the shape of the head, others come complete with fancy pins which fasten the affair to the hair.

Seeds and All

Something new has been added to the diet of a young lady here. In the process of doing banking for a theater, she has become quite popular with tellers at a local bank and often receives gifts of candy or other eatables. When she received a handful of cherries, she proceeded to eat them with never a thought as to disposing of the seeds. As the situation became more grave the young lady was forced to swallow them. If dire consequences which fellow employes have forecast materialize, she can turn to her uncle, a Marion doctor.

Temptation

Many of the bus passengers the other day looked longingly at an East Center street station attendant who was washing his drive with a hose. It was one of those sweltering days and if the bus had stopped very much longer at the stop light, we think some would have seriously considered piling out and jumping in the cooling stream.

Won't Complain

Speaking of the heat brings to mind a comment overheard while a Marion woman was paying her utility bill the other morning. The clerk had remarked about the change of temperature and the recent Sunday heat wave reaching 96 was of course discussed. The customer said she vowed she wasn't going to complain and every time she felt like wavering she remembered discomforts of the "boys fighting over there."

Home-Front Strategists

Marion's armchair generals are puffing these days, trying to keep up with the rapid-fire developments on many fronts. The old home-front game of armchair strategy has been played in this war just as fervently as in the last, despite the fact that modern battle equipment and multiple operations have threatened to leave the home-town guesser out on a limb at many stages of the game.

The way the European, Italian and Pacific fronts have opened up full blast recently has been something akin to a sports follower if he were to be confronted with close races in both of the major leagues with a world series thrown in for good measure. The events simply come too fast for the home-town generals to do justice to them in their daily conversations.

Incidentally, the restaurants are full of strategists these days, and those that use tablecloths report the diagrams pencilled on the cloths would put many military map makers to shame.

On the whole, most persons don't take their battle planning too seriously. At least the game provides one definite benefit—it brushes the participants up on geography.

Scarce Items

The scarcity of many articles these days has put an entirely different set of values on various types of merchandise. Some items nowadays are valuable, like diamonds, because there are so few of them rather than because they were costly in the days when they could be made plentifully.

Take, for example, the experience of one Marion resident who started shopping for a miniature bicycle, the type small children ride on sidewalks. You used to see quite a few of them around, and there still are quite a number, but they begin to stand out like rubies if you're trying to buy one.

Two cycle shops here reported they simply are off the market. "You can hardly find one these days, and when you do, it isn't for sale," one of the proprietors commented. In the maze of bicycles around him as he made this remark, it seemed that if he would look around a little there certainly would be at least one small bike in the bunch. "These aren't for sale either," the owner commented, pointing to the assembly of large bikes. "They're in for repairs. I've only got two for sale."

Race Stir

During one of the recent races here, all of the crowd milling around in the center field of the track started running pell-mell toward the grandstand side. There wasn't a sound to be heard, nor anything to be seen, but the rush caused the grandstanders to wonder what was happening and a qualm for their own safety arose. Just then in the flood lights, the spectators could finally see it was raining. The rain lasted for about five seconds and quit.

Target of Quips

Two remarks made recently when Spar recruiter Dorothy Reynard, yeoman third class wore her havelock while in Marion on one of her visits each Thursday at the Chamber of Commerce office, were so amusing she had to tell them. She hastened to explain first that the havelock is the rain-proof covering that protects the hat and flows over the shoulders. The first amazed comment from a Marionite was, "Look, an Arabian!" Farther down the street another gazer quipped, "I think I'll get that for Hollowe'en."

Miss Reynard told of an experience Captain Dorothy Stratton, director of the Spars, had when she was traveling on a train some time ago. A civilian woman seated across the aisle stared first furtively and then openly at the stripes and shield. When she couldn't hold her silence any longer, curiosity prompted her to blurt out this question, "Pardon me, ma'am, but are you a Wac, a Wave or a Spam?"

On U. S. warships the keys to the powder magazines are sent to the captain each night for safekeeping—a custom dating back to John Paul Jones.

PRESIDENT NAMES 12 ON MONETARY BOARD

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, June 23—President Roosevelt today named 12 government leaders and prominent economist to represent the United States at an international monetary conference to be held at Bretton Woods, N. H.

The American delegation will be headed by Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau Jr and will include a bipartisan representation from the banking and currency committees of the senate and house.

Mr. Roosevelt said still to be named are technical experts who will advise the delegates.

Secretary Morgenthau will be

Fred M. Vinson, economic stabilization director, vice chairman; Assistant Secretary of State Dean Acheson, Edward E. Brown, president of the First National Bank of Chicago; Foreign Economic Administrator Leo T. Crowley; Marriner S. Eccles, chairman of the Federal Reserve board of governors; Mabel Newcomer, professor of economics at Vassar college; Rep. Brent Spence (D-Ky.), chairman of the house committee on banking and currency; Senator Charles W. Tobey (R-N.H.), member of the senate committee on banking and currency; Senator Robert F. Wagner (D-N.Y.), chairman of the senate committee on banking and currency; Harry D. White, assistant to the secretary of the treasury; Rep. Jesse P. Wolcott (R-Mich.), member of the house committee on banking and currency.

RAIN, ELECTRICAL STORM HITS TOLEDO

By The Associated Press

TOLEDO, O. June 23 — Three and a half inches of rain, accompanied by a fierce electrical storm, deluged this city early today leaving in its wake hundreds of stalled automobiles, basements filled with water, curtailed operations at hospitals and war plants and scores of streets flooded curb to curb.

The rain, declared by the government weather observer to be the heaviest for any 24-hour period in the month of June in the city's history, fell intermittently for six hours.

Most of the railroad underpasses in the city were flooded by water up to 12 feet in depth; all power and heat were cut off at Toledo hospital and nurses were forced to stumble around in the candlelight during the early morning hours.

Lightning struck at least four places, but nobody was injured.

Other northern Ohio points experienced heavy downpours last night and today. At Norwalk, an official register showed 2.38 inches of precipitation in 24 hours and 3.97 inches in the last two days.

Sharp thunderstorms occurred intermittently last night in the Cleveland area, with rainfall measured at one inch.

Presbyterian Scout Troop Wins Game

Boy Scout troops played two of their Scout league games Wednesday night. Troop 6, sponsored by First Presbyterian church, defeated Troop 2, sponsored by T. A. Edison school by a score of 27 to 7. The game was played at Silver Street school. Troop 4, sponsored by Trinity Baptist church, triumphed over Troop 1, sponsored by the Elks lodge, 8 to 4 in a game played at Forest Lawn school. The game was the first loss out of four games played by Troop 1.

Col. Roosevelt's Ex-Wife To Wed Army Officer

By The Associated Press

FORT WORTH, Tex., June 23—A marriage license was issued here today to Mrs. Ruth Georgina Roosevelt, former wife of Col. Elliott Roosevelt, and Lt. Col. H. T. Eidson, of the Lawson General hospital at Atlanta, Ga.

Colonel Eidson said the wedding would be held soon, probably here.

M. E. Hinklin Head of Masonic Council

MARION E. HINKLIN

At the annual assembly of Marion Council No. 22 Royal and Select Masters, held at the Masonic Temple, Wednesday evening, County Treasurer Marion E. Hinklin was elected illustrious master.

Elected to serve with Mr Hinklin were the following: Ralph G. Williamson, deputy master, Halleck C. Secrest of Prospect, principal conductor of work, James G. Cooper, treasurer; Harold W. Hall, recorder, Herbert C Wolfe, captain of guard; Kenneth E. Fields, conductor of council; Robert T Mason, steward; Otto J. Ricker, sentinel; B. Harry Gast, trustee for three years.

The officers were installed by Henry A. Mickley, acting as grand master and Harvey T. Gracely as grand marshal.

Mr. Hinklin resides at 578 South Vine street, and is a member of Marion Lodge No. 70, F. and A. M., and Marion Chapter no 82, R. A. M. Following installation Mr Hinklin made the following appointments: chaplain, Dr. John T. Gruber; marshal, Anson E. Pickerell; orator, B. Harry Gast; pianist, Oscar Gast; color guard, Arthur B. Creasap; captain of gibilties, Edwin P. King; finance committee, Henry A. Mickley, Harold J. Grigsby and Stuart E. Jones; welfare committee, Ralph G. Williamson, Halleck Secrest and Herbert C. Wolfe.

Stuart E. Jones, the retiring master, was presented a wrist watch by the council as a token of appreciation for the service rendered by him during the past year, the presentation was made by Mr. Gracely. Following the meeting a social hour was enjoyed. The next meeting of the council will be Sept. 20.

EDITORS TO PROMOTE FREEDOM OF PRESS

By The Associated Press

DETROIT, JJune 23—Terming freedom of the press throughout the world a means of preserving the future peace, John S. Knight, president of the American society of newspaper editors, today appointed a committee of 13 editors whose objectives will be to establish the principle in future national and international agreements.

"The people do not desire war and all peoples would discourage it if the real causes or motives for war were exposed through the daily publication of news free from the influence of self interest," said Knight, publisher of the Detroit Free Press, the Akron Beacon Journal and the Miami Herald.

First action of the committee, Knight said, would be to seek adoption of freedom of the press resolutions by the Republican and Democratic national political conventions.

Members of the committee are: Ralph E. McGill, Atlanta Constitution, chairman; Carl W. Ackerman, graduate school of journalism, Columbia university, vice chairman; Palmer Hoyt, Portland Oregonian; Lawrence L. Winship, Boston Globe; Ralph Coghlan, St. Louis Post Dispatch; Raymond McCaw, New York Times, Paul Scott Mowrer, Chicago Daily News; Nelson D. Poynter, St. Petersburg Times; Carl D. Groat, Cincinnati Post; Sevellon Brown, Providence Journal Bulletin; James E. Chappel, Birmingham News and Age Herald; Gardner Cowles Jr., Des Moines Register and Tribune; and John H. Sorrells, Memphis Commercial Appeal.

Model Plane Squadrons To Be Formed Saturday

Announcement was made today of the organization of "squadrons" open to any boy who builds model planes or is interested in building models. Squadrons will be organized and leaders chosen tomorrow at the Y.M.C.A. at 9 a. m.

There is no membership fee for the Model Plane club and boys do not have to be members of the Y. The only cost is that of the model planes which each boy purchases for himself. Meetings will be held as follows. Monday and Wednesday afternoons from 3:45 to 5:15 and Saturdays from 9 a. m. to noon.

ORDERS STRIKE ENDED

By The Associated Press

HUNTINGTON, W. Va., June 23—W. D. Mackay, district director of the CIO-United Steelworkers of America, last night ordered about 400 workers at the Mount Vernon Bridge Co., Ironton, O., to halt their work stoppage. Mackay, who termed the stoppage illegal and unauthorized, said continuation of the walkout might "eventually cause embarrassment to the invasion." The company manufactures invasion barges.

16 MORE JAP SHIPS IN U. S. SUB BAG

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, June 23—American submarines, dealing another heavy blow to the Japanese merchant fleet, have sent 16 more enemy vessels to the bottom of the Pacific.

The navy, announcing this today, held to its policy of secrecy in submarine operations, giving no hint of when or where the latest bag was made.

However, it is known the underwater craft have operated close to Japanese shores and along supply lines deep within other enemy-controlled waters. Navy Secretary Forrestal also has reported that submarines played a large part in reconnaissance activities prior to the location of a portion of the Jap fleet east of the Philippines.

The new report of sinkings shows the rate of destruction by the American subs now is better than one vessel a day, because it raises to 50 the number of Japanese craft announced as sunk by submarines alone this month.

Since the start of the war, submariner are credited with having sunk or destroyed 771 enemy vessels of all types including some warships. That total breaks down to 623 ships sunk, 36 probables and 115 damaged.

The newest bag includes 11 medium-sized cargo vessels, four small cargo vessels and one medium-sized naval auxiliary.

U. S. Marshals Sell 5,000 Pair of Nylon Hosiery

By The Associated Press

GREENSBORO, N. C., June 23—U. S. deputy marshals stood by today for the 10 a. m. zero hour when 5,000 pairs of nylon hose go on sale at pre-war prices, $1.00 to $1.65 a pair.

Marshal Edney Ridge said he expected possibly 10,000 would-be purchasers.

"Since word got about," Ridge said, "I've received $10,000 in mail orders from folks all over the country. Now my office has got to mail all that stuff back."

A federal court order directed sale of the hose, which the government charged was manufactured for black market sale from stolen nylon. The court specified that the purchasers be limited to three pairs each.

tober, 1942, was when they were both stationed for a short time at Salt Lake City, Utah, in October last year.

Robert arrived in North Africa and was hoping for another meeting with Richard, who had been in Italy since January. While Robert was still stationed in Africa word came that his brother had been reported missing. Robert moved to the Italian theater in May.

Robert and his brother are both radiomen and gunners on B-24 bombers. Both boys are natives of Urichsville. Richard has never visited in Marion and the last time that his mother saw him was when he was visiting an uncle in Missouri last June. Richard was employed at the Knapp-Monarch Manufacturing Co. at St. Louis before going into service.

forts to collect evidence "to identify all those responsible." Eden said the government was resolved "that those foul criminals shall be tracked down to the last man wherever they may be and when the war is over they will be brought to exemplary justice."

Eden reassured commons that the government had no reports of mass killings except the one involving British and Allied flying officers who escaped from the camp near Dresden.

He indicated the gestapo did the killing and said the victims included officers of other European nationalities among the escapees as well as some British and Dominion fliers.

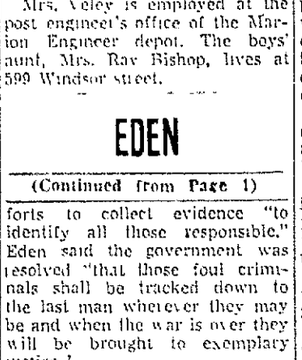
The Germans in their note claimed serious mass escapes in March endangered public security and forced the adoption of stern counter measures.

Invasion Weapons

The 60mm Mortar

By The Associated Press

The 60 mm mortar is a light infantry support weapon for use against machine gun nests, attacking infantry or light emplacements. It consists of a barrel, base cap and firing pin.



The mortar throws a three-pound high explosive projectile or an illuminating shell to disclose aerial targets at night. Its range is from 100 to 2,000 yards.

presidential delegates headed toward a possible pre-convention climax. Several big-state delegations caucus Monday—opening day of the convention—and many may determine their choice.

Highlights of the proposed foreign policy plank as laid before the platform drafters by Senator Vandenberg:

1. A promise to avoid "civilian interference" with the military prosecution of the war to total victory in full cooperation with the United Nations.

2. A proposal for "responsible participation" by the United States in postwar cooperation organization, without any "world state."

3. A suggestion that such an organization "develop effective cooperative means to direct peace forces to prevent or repel military aggression."

4. An assertion that force alone will not keep the peace, with the development suggested of international law and an international tribunal.

5. A pledge to protect "the essential interests and resources of the United States" while promoting world wide economic stability to obtain a high level of employment.

The 400-word declaration contained no outright pledge to use military power to curb aggression. It suggested that an international organization "develop effective cooperative means to direct peace forces" toward that objective.

Republican Chairman Harrison E. Spangler released the official convention program with less entertainment and fewer set speeches indicated. He predicted the presidential nominee will be chosen by Wednesday night—thus reiterating his forecast that there'll be no deadlock.

Japs Report Air Raid on Andaman Islands

SOUTHEAST ASIA COMMAND HEADQUARTERS, K A N D Y, CEYLON, JUNE 23—A naval and air raid on port Blair in the Andaman islands Wednesday was announced today.

"Considerable damage" to military installations was reported.

(The Tokyo radio earlier reported a combined formation of 35 bombers and fighters had raided the Japanese garrison at Port Blair, and claimed little damage was done. The broadcast said "losses were confined to damage to one small boat which was hit by an enemy bomb and set ablaze," and asserted that six planes were shot down and four damaged.)

MARION BROTHERS DIE 2 WEEKS APART

Arney A. Benson, World War I Veteran, Stricken.

Arney A. Benson, 56, of 385 Olney Avenue died Thursday morning at 12:30 in the Veterans' hospital in Brecksville, O. He had been ill since February.

He was born April 7, 1888, in LaRue to George and Sarah Wise Benson. In 1921 he married Emma Mae Zachman at Catlettsburg, Ky. He had lived in Marion 27 years and before his illness was employed as a shipping clerk at the Scioto Ordnance Plant.

In the first World war Mr. Benson was a corporal in the A. E. F., serving in Austria and Italy in the 332nd Infantry and the 168th Depot brigade.

His death followed in less than two weeks that of a brother, Ira W. Benson, who died in his home at 829 Merkel avenue June 11.

Surviving are his mother, his widow and a sister, Mrs. Ivy Beaver of Chicago avenue.

The body will be brought to the Boyd and Uncapher funeral home on West Columbia street.

Upper Sandusky To Be Host to 2 Church Groups

Ministers and their families of three districts of the United Brethren and Evangelical churches will join in a meeting at the municipal park in Upper Sandusky Monday. The meeting has been arranged by district leaders as a "get acquainted" event in view of proposed union of the two denominations. Rev. Garrison Roebuck of Marion First U. B. church and Rev. R. L. Sutherland of Greenwood Evangelical church are district leaders for the U. B. Marion district and the Evangelical Marion district and Rev. John C. Searle of the Shelby U. B. church is district leader for the U. B. Shelby district. The meeting will open at 10 a. m., a basket dinner will be served at noon and brief separate business sessions of the three districts will be held at 1 p. m. Recreation will include softball, horseshoe pitching and swimming. It is expected that the conference superintendents of the two denominations, Rev. E. E. Nietz of Columbus, Evangelical, and Dr. V. H. Aliman of Bluffton, United Brethren, will be present.

Nazis Report New Red Drive Now Shaping Up

By J. M. ROBERTS JR.
(Substituting for Dewitt Mackenzie)

Germany's announcement of the long-rising of the Russian [illegible] offensive [illegible] expected [illegible] the Ukraine [illegible] front [illegible] may be premature, but [illegible] time [illegible] closely into [illegible] preparations.

It is the usual for Berlin to announce [illegible] Russian thrust [illegible] and [illegible] Moscow. The German [illegible] wrong recently about the importance of the Russian attack in the Rumanian front, but in general they have been fairly accurate, at least up to the point [illegible] accurately might interfere with propaganda.

Even [illegible] the Russians [illegible] recaptured Sevastopol observers [illegible] been watching for a blow-off on the [illegible] front. It is [illegible] the Germans occupy most [illegible] position, and it is [illegible] to the Baltic to Odessa [illegible] Russians to [illegible] their great forces and supplies. It is the idea through which the Germans made their drive [illegible] Moscow in 1941. The Vitebsk-Orsha sector which Berlin reports ablaze is dissected by the main railroads from Moscow [illegible] Minsk, ultimately to Warsaw [illegible] Berlin.

Add to [illegible] in addition to having the best supply routes from the rear, also would serve as a line-straightening effort.

Minsk is about 400 miles from Warsaw, while the farthest advanced Russian sector around Kovel is 200 miles nearer.

The Russians are addicted to the "old one-two" system, getting one drive well-started, as they have in Finland, and then turning loose another. If the north-central drive has started it will be followed by others. Then, wherever the break-through comes, everything will be thrown in for the knock-out.

The last Russian drive, which carried them to Romania and the Carpathians near Czechoslovakia, began on July 12, after a bitter, seven-day German offensive southwest of Moscow. It followed by only a few months the turn of the German tide at Stalingrad. The Russians are infinitely better off now, ready to start earlier and hit harder with superior forces of men and equipment.

If the German report is correct—and it will apply soon if not right now—Berlin itself has announced the raising of the curtain for the last act, the twilight of Hitler's pagan gods.

KIWANIANS HEAR COLLEGE PRESIDENT

'Formula for Security' Theme of Talk by Dr. Howe.

Dr. J. R. Howe, president of Otterbein college, Westerville, O. and guest speaker yesterday at the Kiwanis noon meeting at Hotel Harding chose "Formula for Security" as the theme for his talk.

Dr. Howe emphasized the important part that all service clubs can play in community life, stressing first, the unselfish activities of members should be for the common civic good and secondly, that during all of their activities, members should keep a spirit of levity and ability to relax. He gave the following slogan for present day living, "Steel in our hearts and laughter on our lips."

In celebration of All-Kiwanis week, Rev. Eldred Johnston, chairman of Kiwanis educational committee, listed all past presidents of the local club in recognition of their services.

Perfect attendance tabs were presented to C. Z. Zachman and Dr. A. B. Lawson as an award for their respective 12 and 3 year records of unbroken attendance. The presentation was made by Clarence Shockney, chairman of the attendance committee.

Guests were: Dr. Howe, Robert Ohman of Cleveland, William Shearer of New York City, Jess T. Dowler of Marion and Staff Sgt. William L. Dowler, Sgt. Robert Thiburn and Cpl. Charles Bloomingdale, the latter Marion men home on furlough.

MRS. WILL ROGERS, widow of the late humorist who was known and revered the world over, died after several months of serious illness. Mrs. Rogers, who recently returned from a trip to Oregon was 65. She died at Santa Monica, Calif.

out were beaten off. British reconnaissance parties three miles east of Caen encountered determined resistance.

Allied bombers struck and destroyed a steel works just outside Caen. The Germans had been converting it into a fortified point to block the Allied forces standing less than half a mile away.

Reinforcements Battered

The mighty Allied air arm also battered railways over which the Germans are attempting to bring reinforcements to the battle area.

The wind dropped and the weather improved on the Allied beachhead, permitting the Allies to resume, after four bad days, the unloading of supplies.

The special communique from Eisenhower's headquarters this morning said the Germans had been forced to use "considerable forces" against the French resistance movement, which now is operating in accordance with Allied high command plans.

The Germans attacked French "Maquis" at Vercors and Ain with armored forces, artillery and aircraft, the announcement said, and the French "seriously delayed" two enemy armored divisions in southwest France from reaching the beachhead. Numerous cuts also were made in France's interior railroads.

An American airman said he saw a naval engagement in the channel last night with two fleets "going at it hammer and tongs," but there was no immediate official announcement of such a fight. If true, it might indicate the Germans were trying to evacuate some of their trapped troops from Cherbourg.

Last night's communique announced the Germans were rushing new forces to Normandy and that Allied planes "swarmed over northwestern France from dawn to midday to harass enemy reinforcements moving westward from the Paris area."

Associated Press War Correspondent Don Whitehead, with the American forces storming Cherbourg, reported last night that "death and destruction are rampant in the ore of defenses the Germans are manning" as thundering U. S. artillery carved out a path for the battle-stained doughboys.

Ohio Universalists Close 2-Day Convention

The two-day convention of Ohio Universalist churches which met this week at Caledonia closed last night with the annual banquet of the convention at the Universalist church there. Delegates from churches throughout the state were entertained in the homes of the community Wednesday and Thursday. Special speakers for the program were Rev. G. H. Thurburn Jr. of Cincinnati, Rev. John Flint of Kent and Rev. Martha G. Jones of Jersey.

LONDON, June 23—German [illegible] have caused damage [illegible] national importance and civilian casualties have been [illegible] Home Secretary Herbert S. Morrison told the house of commons today.

The situation they have created has no resemblance to the [illegible] and over-dramatized picture [illegible] German propagandists have painted [illegible] the German people, Morrison said, and [illegible] of the enemy [illegible] plan [illegible] Britain [illegible] the robot [illegible] a signal failure.

[illegible] have been launched [illegible] 10 or more flying [illegible] here in the air at the same [illegible] the home secretary said.

A few hours before he spoke, Germans sent incendiary and explosive flying bombs against southern England in one of the heaviest attacks since the new weapon was put in action. Fires were started but were [illegible] unguessed quickly. RAF fighters, guided by [illegible] searchlights, knocked down a number before they could do [illegible] damage.

Morrison described the results achieved by British fighters and anti-aircraft batteries in shooting down the flying bombs as "substantial." There was growing confidence of good results in [illegible] batting this [illegible] weapon. Counter measures included [illegible] ing robot launching grounds in the Pas De Calais area of France, [illegible] fensive work of fighter planes [illegible] curtains of anti-aircraft fire.

With the newness and mystery worn off, Britons are taking the robots in the stride of the blitz days.

There is no pretense here of laughing off these robots. They are respected, and more women and children are spending nights in their shelters than at any time in two years. There has been not the slightest panic, however.

U. S. AND 17 OTHER NATIONS OK BOLIVIA

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, June 23—The United States and 17 other American republics today recognized the government of Bolivia, ending six months of diplomatic isolation of the South American nation.

One other nation, Uruguay, has agreed to extend recognition but will not take the technical steps necessary for a day or so.

Recognition of the neighboring countries followed a decision that the Bolivian regime definitely favors the united nations' cause.

The United States' action was taken at La Paz, Bolivia, by Robert F. Woodward, chargé d'affaires of the embassy there, who presented a note to Foreign Minister Enrique Baldivieso announcing resumption of diplomatic relations by the United States. State department officials said they could not say immediately whether Ambassador Pedro Boal would be returned to Bolivia.

The department made clear that the action to recognize resulted from at least six specific steps by the regime of Maj. Gualberto Villarroel evidencing Bolivia's desire to be restored to its place in the council of the United Nations.

8 Killed by Tornado Storm in Mid-West

By The Associated Press

PLATTEVILLE, Wis., June [illegible]. A tornado struck two [illegible] counties in Wisconsin and [illegible] last night, killed at least eight persons, injured an unestimated number and destroyed more than a dozen homes in Belmont.

Damage to property was estimated at thousands of dollars with estimates of more than 100 homes and farm buildings level[illegible].

A Wisconsin home guard company was dispatched to the stricken area at Belmont and Darlington.

The storm cut a path about three miles and extended about 30 miles.

FRANCIS DURBIN RESIGNS

By The Associated Press

LIMA, O., June 23—Francis Durbin, Lima attorney, resigned today as chairman of Allen County's Democratic executive committee, a post he held for eight years. Harry Meredith of Lima, former vice president of the committee, was elected unanimously to succeed Durbin, whose resignation was attributed to ill health.

PARATROOPER GUARD HONORS STAR WINNERS. As silver stars for gallantry are bestowed on four of their officers in a little Normandy town, U. S. paratroopers stand guard in ceremonial honor. Buffet Party: More Fun, Less Work

SUMMER BUFFET BEAUTY: Frosted jellied vegetable salad and pecan puffs.

By CHARLOTTE ADAMS
Associated Press Food Editor

The food people like to eat in summer lends itself especially to buffet parties — which are the easiest kind of party to give without help. There are a few basic principles to keep in mind when you plan such parties. There should be at least one hot dish or drink, even in the hottest weather. You should make arrangements so that guests may comfortably place their plates, cups and glasses on tables while they eat, rather than have to balance all precariously on their knees. And last but most important, you should try to keep the menu simple.

One Hot Dish

The one hot dish can be a casserole, which is easiest of all to prepare ahead and cook at the last minute. It may be just baked macaroni and cheese, or scalloped potatoes, with which you serve cold meat and perhaps a green salad. Or you can elaborate a bit and make a casserole lined with spaghetti and the center filled with creamed chicken or chicken and mushrooms. There are many good egg dishes which serve well as the one hot food in a summer buffet.

Cold Main Course

One point you mustn't forget in preparing a buffet meal is that it must be handsome to look at. As a classic example of that we offer a really handsome jellied salad. The best looking, as well as the richest to taste, are ones which include real mayonnaise in the mold itself. Illustrated is a specially fine one. Served with hot muffins and hot coffee, and perhaps some sliced cold ham, this makes a complete meal and one of the most appetizing looking ones we've ever seen.

FROSTED JELLIED VEGETABLE SALAD

Frosting

1½ cups real mayonnaise, 1 tablespoon gelatine, ½ cup cold water.

Filling

1 pint tomato juice, 1 small onion sliced, 2 bay leaves, 4 whole peppers, 1½ tablespoons gelatine, ¼ cup tomato juice, 1 tablespoon sugar, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, 4 diced hard cooked eggs, ½ cup celery sliced, ¼ cup parsley springs, salad greens.

For the Frosting: Soak gelatine in cold water. Dissolve over boiling water. Add to mayonnaise. Select two bowls the same shape, of 2 quart and 1½ quart capacities. Rinse the larger bowl with cold water. Place about ½ cup of the mayonnaise mixture in the big bowl and place in the refrigerator until solid. Now place the rest of the mayonnaise around the edges of the bowl with a spoon. Dip the smaller bowl in cold water. Press it down into the bigger bowl, forcing the soft mayonnaise mixture up around the sides. Chill until firm. Fill the smaller bowl with hot water and then loosen it carefully. Remove the smaller bowl and fill the center of the larger with the following:

For the Filling: Scald the tomato juice with the seasonings. Pour this hot over the gelatine which has been softened in the ¼ cup of tomato juice. Cool until "quaky." Stir in vegetables and eggs. Pour into the jellied mayonnaise. Chill until firm. Unmold on a bed of salad greens. Garnish with hardcooked eggs and raw vegetables, such as tomatoes, radishes, and cucumber sticks, if desired. Makes 8-10 servings.

Pecan Puffs

2 cups self-rising cake flour, ¼ cup vitaminized margarine, ¼ cup coarsely chopped pecans, 1 egg, ¼ cup cool water.

Sift and measure cake flour. Cut in margarine until coarse crumbs are formed. Stir in nuts. Break egg into a bowl. Add water and mix. Add this mixture to dry ingredients. Mix lightly with fork until dry ingredients are moistened. Fill slightly greased muffin pans 2-3 full. Top each puff with a half pecan. Bake in 400 degree oven 20-25 minutes.

Less Premium Gasoline Available for Civilians

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, June 23.—An immediate reduction in the amount of premium gasoline for civilian use was announced yesterday by Secretary Ickes because of military demands for tetraethyl lead.

Ickes told a press conference he has been forced to order a cut in premium gasoline during July, and for an unpredictable number of months to come, to about 40 per cent of the supply in June.

He said the order does not reduce the civilian supply of gasoline because refineries will be allowed to increase the manufacture of regular gasoline, no higher than 72 octane, to compensate for the cutback in premium gasoline production.

"CURLY" SMART HANGS UP WIN NO. 17 IN CIRCUIT MEETING

1,800 See Delaware Pilot Tally 4 More Heat Victories.

By CHARLES ELLIOTT
Marion Star Sports Editor

HANG up a big 17 on the harness racing scoreboard for Wayne "Curly" Smart, the Delaware daredevil of the turf who attained that number of driving wins in the Marion Little Grand Circuit meeting with four heat triumphs on last night's program at the county fairgrounds before 1,800 customers.

That total ties the number of wins of Gene Cartmal, top driver in the Ohio Little Grand Circuit now judged by Frank Foster. Smart is not scheduled to drive tonight but most certainly will be in the sulky Saturday and he still has a better than 50-50 chance to take Cartmal's record to smithereens.

Smart is the one ahead of his pursuit competition in the local meeting for the title. Pop driver of the meet" Harry Fitzpatrick who hasn't entered an entry in over a week and has departed from the county fairgrounds for the Grand Circuit fund at South Raudall in Cleveland, is still second with 12 wins. Marquis Hall Polk is third with 11.

Smart again drove Stella Hanover to victory, winning the $300 Delaware trot with her last night and bouncing back with great spring in the final and feature event, the $500 Houghton Sulky Co. Free-for-all Pace to win with Watson E. Direct, big chestnut stallion Smart's horses each won two heats. The middle event, the $300 27 pace was snared by Peggy B, a brown mare driven by Ernie Smith.

The second event was one of the closest of the entire meeting with Peggy B being pronounced victor because of her second place finishes in the second and third heats after winning the first. Sterling Boy driven by Whitey Amspaugh of Kalida, O., was first in the second heat of this 27 pace and finished runner-up in the event while Razor came in third on the strength of an unexpected win in the last heat.

Far And Away Tops

"Curly" Smart, up to this point far and away the meet's outstanding and most colorful driver, has the highly admirable record of 17 victories out of 25 heats started. He has jogged starters to the post in nine races thus far.

Last night's card also saw the first tie for third place in the meeting. Torrid Zone and Jessie Nutonia wound up in a draw for that position in the free-for-all pace, each with a second, third and fourth place finish.

Weather permitting the semi-final card in the 13-night Circuit meeting will be held tonight at the fairgrounds. On deck are the $1,000 Lord Jewelry stake for three-year-old trotters, the $300 2:8 class trot and the 19 class pace also for a purse of $200. The meet will close tomorrow night with card is being tabbed as the "card of the week"—the 2:05 pace trot, 25 class pace and 16 pace.

The track was the slowest of the meeting last night. Yesterday's rains turning the half-mile oval into a "virtual sea of mud" by early afternoon, in the words of Presiding Judge Joe McGraw. The slow track seemed to handicap the starters in the classified trot and 27 pace but certainly not in the feature free-for-all pace. Some of the best times of the meet were made in this race—2:09 and 2:07½ for the mile and 1:00 for the 9-16 of a mile route. The 2:07½, in which Watson E. Direct was clocked in the second heat, is only a half second off this year's record for the local track.

Watson E. Direct took the first heat of the third race by two lengths after assuming the front position in the first circuit of the track. He led over Jessie Nutonia by a length in the backstretch and upper turn and increased the margin by a length in the final accounting. It was the swift Eddie D, a chestnut stallion who had a best time of 2 minutes last year, racing to the front at the start of the second session and really going like blazes for the first half of the mile. He led at the half by a length and a half and was timed in 1:04. Eddie D held the lead for the backstretch but in the upper Smart's Watson E. Direct began to drive and was ahead going into the homestretch. He won by a mere nose over Eddie D, who finished exceptionally strong and fast. Torrid Zone was the early leader in the third heat but in the upper turn, Eddie D began to turn on and took the lead. He won by a length over Jessie Nutonia. Watson E. Direct was third.

Last night's two wins give Stella Hanover, owned by Joe Neville of Delaware, a total of four for the meeting. Magnesium was ahead at the half of the opening heat of the first race, Stella Hanover, the favorite, broke in the backstretch when making a serious bid for the lead. Fred R came on to win by a length and a half. With the exception of the start of the race when Magnesium was ahead, it was all Stella Hanover in the second heat. She won by a length and a half margin, and came back to run away with the final heat by six lengths.

Peggy B led all the way in the first heat of the second race and triumphed by five lengths.

Want To Know If There Is a Game? Look for Pennant

Fans of the Marion baseball club have devised a means of informing local fans whether a game will be played on a day when the weather is inclement and there might be some doubt as to whether the tilt would be postponed.

In the future whenever you want to know whether a game will be played, take a trip downtown and glance up toward the roof of the Marion County bank at Main and Center streets, the busiest corner in town. If you see a pennant flying from the roof of the bank, a game will be played at Lincoln park. Otherwise, the game is postponed.

This applies only to home games at Lincoln park.

The pennant, made by Ferd Berg, local artist, is expected to be put to its first test Sunday morning. The Marion team is scheduled to engage Zanesville in a game at Lincoln park Sunday. If the pennant is flying, the game will be on. Wilson Tway, member of the club board of directors, will help Mr. Berg in the setting up of the pennant.

The flag-flying idea has been used by the Cleveland Indians for many seasons. Whenever a game is on at either the stadium or league park there, a pennant can be seen flying atop the 700-foot Terminal Tower.

John Wyrostek Sets New A.A. Hit Mark

By The Associated Press

Just as though he planned it that way, Johnny Wyrostek of the Columbus Red Birds waited 10 innings last night before delivering the blow that set a new American Association consecutive game hitting record for the season. He now has hit safely in 20 straight contests.

If John was saving his effort for a climactic moment he achieved his purpose. The Red Birds and St. Paul were all square at 2-2 after the regulation nine innings. Wyrostek, leading off in the 10th, slapped his 32nd double of the year, held up at third on Joe Mack's single, then scampered home when Pete Chapman's throw to the plate bounded into the stands.

Wyrostek's new mark is one better than that of Milwaukee's Hal Peck, but far below the all-time Association record of 43 established in 1935 by another Brewer, Ed Marshall.

The second race appeared to be the same as the first until the final 200 yards of the stretch. Peggy B led until that point and then visably tiring slackened her pace and Sterling Boy won by a length. In the 9-16 of a mile last heat, Razor W won by two lengths.

The daily double last night returned $13.40 on Peggy B and Watson E. Direct. Top price last night was the $59 straight return on Fred R in the inaugural heat of the first race.

Marion Lets Run Seep Through by Errors in 12th, Loses to Sox

Special to The Star

MIDDLETOWN, O., June 23—Marion's defense cracked in the twelfth inning last night and Middletown eked out a 4 to 3 victory in the first extra inning game here this season. Marion took an early lead with two runs in the first. Walks to Virl Minnis in the John Smith, an infield single and a fielder's choice did the work. The Cubs added another in the second on a double to center by Chuck Barney who scored when Minnis singled through third.

Bill Morneweg singled in the fourth and from that point on Lloyd Houser allowed only one hit, a single by Barney in the 10th.

Doubles by Dyer and Zedalis scored one Sox run in the fourth and the Sox knotted the score in the sixth on singles by Zedalis and Clayton and a double by Houser.

Heller batted for Diedrick in the 12th and was safe when Smith muffed his hopper. Teter attempted a bunt and was safe at first when Vickery threw wild to first. Steve Senko sacrificed and Dyer drove across the winning run with a slow roller to Ed Labanara.

Tiger Moore Claws Knox in Armory Mat Feature

Outcomes of the three matches on Thursday night's weekly wrestling show staged by Promoter Les Fishbaugh at the Armory on West Church street were: Tiger Moore over Buddy Knox in the two hour time limit final, Angelo Martinelli and Irish McGee, a draw and Cy Larson over Steve Nenoff in the 45-minute opener.

Moore won the first fall in the feature bout in nine minutes with the abdominal stretch and didn't waste any time in disposing of his opponent when he returned to the ring for the second fall, winning in one minute by the use of the body press and back flip. McGee won the first fall of the second match in 18 minutes with the whip and body press and Martinelli annexed the second fall with a drop kick and body press. Larson took the first fall of the opener in 26 minutes with a full Nelson and thereby won the match because the time limit had nearly been reached.

Players Eligible for All-Star Game Named by Colley

A list of players available for participation in the Ohio State league All-Star game to be staged July 12 was made public today by League President Frank M. Colley of Columbus.

This list includes all players currently on the active playing rosters of the Ohio State league teams. It might be well for fans planning to enter the All-Star team contest to clip this list out of the paper and use it for reference when filling out their selections.

Deadline for the All-Star contest is June 30. All entries must be in to the Star sports editor by that time, and must be filed with the league office not later than June 30. The Marion fans whose selections most nearly match the All-Star team finally chosen will receive two tickets good for all league games the remainder of this year. The runner-up in the contest will be awarded one such ticket.

The All-Star game will be played in the city whose team is leading the league July 1. The All-Star team will be composed of players from the other five clubs. The manager of the All-Star team will be the skipper of the team that is in second place July 1.

Following is a list of players eligible for the All-Star game:

Lima—Zerna, Bova, Kolo, Semmedeke, Mendizazel Reside, Fuertes, Smith Travieso, Rogers, Krieger, McKinnon, Collingsworth and Steinhauer.

Marion—Bellamy, Vickery Crowe, Pace, Baney, Edwards, Morneweg, Blunt, Smith, Barney, Broukal, Labanara, Ostrowski, Ely, (Minnis injured, will be in soon).

Middletown—Heller, Zedalis Smith, Houser, Taylor, Kruppa, Petree, Kuddes, Clayton, Senko, Diedrick, Bando, Teter, Horne and Dyer.

Newark—Garver, Evans, Jenkins, Cartee, Hudson, Frezza, Pavlecic, Friend, Conn, Volan, McDonald, Perini, Case, Majorki, Bryant. (Catcher Koppa injured, in soon).

Springfield—Bolick, Carenbauer, Dause, Denier, Faulkner, Goodwin, Howell, Lisztwan, Gutt, Materia, Devine, Simpson, Walker, Wilshaw, Daley.

Zanesville—Fallera, Lembo, Ward, Morrison, Mikesell, Fuller, Eder, Bauer, Bishop, Schmit, Breitbach, Springer, Taylor, Curtis, Fiest.

Al Smith Opposes Lee for Tribe Against Sox

CHICAGO, June 23 — Determined to prevent a duplication of last week- end's performance, when the Chicago White Sox swept a three-game series from the Cleveland Indians, Manager Lou Boudreau plans to use his four best hurlers in the four-game set opening tonight.

Southpaw Al Smith, who defeated the Pale Hose five times last year but has dropped three decisions to them this season, will twirl the opener against Thornton (Lefty) Lee.

Big Jim Tobin Pitches His 2nd No-Hit Game of Year

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Jim Tobin, after eight years as a major league pitcher, sneered at the .000 batting percentage today—and you can bet your last dollar that he's supplied to yesterday's sportwriter—as second of the season—against the Philadelphia Phillies.

The Boston Braves ace had a rough time hurling that 500 mark. After losing 21 games in 1942, he must in the words the veteran connoisseur expert has a lifetime pitching record of 80 wins and 60 losses. Last year he dropped 23 decisions to retain his 500 level.

Prior to yesterday's game, Big Jim had won seven and lost seven for an 82-82 win and lost record. The heaviest losing pitcher in the majors—his 13 complete games is tops for both leagues—allowed only two walks in the abbreviated contest which was called at the end of five innings because of darkness, with the score 7-0 in Boston's favor. Only one other hurler, Johnny Vander Meer of the Cincinnati Reds in 1938, has hurled two no-hit games in one season. Vandy's were regulation nine-inning games, however.

The Phillies took the opener of the twin-bill 1-0 in 15 innings on Ron Northey's home run. Bill Lee and Charlye Schanz collaborated to shade Bill Javery, who went the route for the Braves.

Whit Wyatt hurled his first complete game of the campaign, allowing the Giants only six hits as Brooklyn won 10-3 over the New Yorkers.

Pittsburgh took both ends of a double header from Cincinnati, 9-4 and 7-4.

Bill Zuber handed the Washington Senators their first shutout of the season in their 60th game, dolling out four hits as the New York Yankees won 4-0.

Philadelphia's A's took the second game of a twin-bill 3-2, after Boston's Red Sox captured the opener 5-4 to snap the Mackmen's six-game winning streak. Joe Orengo's eighth-inning double which scored Charlie Metro enabled Detroit to edge out Cleveland 4-3 in the fourth one-run game of the day.

A COUPLE OF WANING SPORTS

T[illegible]sports that have decidedly [illegible]ed several big notches [illegible]arity among the sports [illegible]s of Marion in the past [illegible]rs are tennis and weight

[illegible]le age and even more both these sports proved [illegible] popular here. Hun- Marionites actively par- in the two sports, either [illegible]ation, their own physi- [illegible]irement or the love of [illegible]tion.

[illegible] weight lighting has [illegible]t altogether, as a com- sport and tennis is down [illegible]out, thanks to the per- efforts of far-sighted Y. M. [illegible]officials to keep a spark [illegible]burning in the game.

[illegible]where on this page, you [illegible]d news of the operations [illegible] Y courts in Vernon [illegible]. Several members of that [illegible]ation and servicemen [illegible]aking advantage of the [illegible] but the interest is still far [illegible] a normal level.

[illegible]mething has to be done to [illegible]ve the sport," a Y.M.C.A. [illegible]man said recently. Yes [illegible]something should be done for [illegible] one of the finest, most [illegible]esting sports existing and [illegible]s of thousands of Ameri- annually indulge in the [illegible]ket game, much to their satis- [illegible]tion and delight.

[illegible]As far as is known, there are [illegible]ly five tennis courts currently [illegible]tioning in Marion. Three [illegible] these are operated by the Y.M.C.A. in Vernon Heights. The other two are operated as a part of the city recreation [illegible]rogram. They are located at [illegible]Lincoln and McKinley parks. Many Marionites use these [illegible]recreation commission courts [illegible]daily, especially in the evening after working hours. But still, [illegible]the city lacks its formerly [illegible]exuberant enthusiasm for the sport.

Marion tennis devotees recall a time about 10 years back when [illegible]some 25 courts were in operation [illegible]in the city. The Steam Shovel [illegible]athletic field courts were going full blast then and other local [illegible]concerns had their own tennis [illegible]courts. There were several pri- vate courts through the city and [illegible]courts located in convenient [illegible]places for public use.

[illegible]Maybe Marionites just aren't [illegible]interested in tennis any more. That's entirely possible but not [illegible]impossible. Beyond a doubt, local [illegible]swimmen and sportswomen, young and old, would tarong in sizable numbers to courts if the sports were given the proper promotion as it once was afford- ed. Let the people know there are tennis facilities available and more are likely to make use of them.

It wouldn't be feasible to con- struct new courts at the present time, with the war still very much on. But after the war, more courts could be set up and tennis might once again take its place as one of the city's most popular sports. In the meantime, local athletic leaders might be thinking of some promotional scheme to interest Marion men and women, boys and girls in the game. There wouldn't be any harm in trying.

Weight lifting also in former years was one of the top sports on the Y.M.C.A. athletic agenda. Matches were held frequently several seasons back and the weight lighting room in the base- ment of the Y building on South State street was practically al- ways a hub of activity. Now, competitive weight lifting con- tests have been completely elimi- nated and only occasionally are the weights used by Y members.

Marion boasted some of the state's best amateur weight lift- ers in past years but now, there's no one around who could last a second in any kind of competi- tion.

Y officials have been consider- ing and have to some extent put into operation a plan to intro- duce tennis and weight lifting to Y.M.C.A. groups that meet regu- larly. Especially has this been true with tennis.

TWO MORE PRODUCTS

TWO more products of the Chi- cago Cubs farm system to be furnished the Marion Cubs of the Ohio State league are Johnny Smith, a third baseman and Paul Vickery, most of the time an al- ternate catcher with Joe Bellamy but sometimes a utility outfielder. Both are from Tennessee. Vickery hails from the Nashville farm of the Cubs in the Southern asso- ciation. . . . Roy Eder, star Zanes- ville outfielder, played in his last game as a Dodger Wednesday night. He's now a member of Uncle Sam's Army. He was Zanesville's top stickman with a .339 mark. . . . Frank Purdy, for the past two years head coach at Doylestown High school has been appointed assistant coach at Ashland High in the North Central Ohio confer- ence. He graduated from Bowl- ing Green university in 1929. He will assist Audris L. Buckner in piloting the A's next season.

Hal Sours To Address Commissioners at Galion

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS, June 23—Members of the Central Northwest County Commissioners association of Ohio will be guests of Crawford county commissoiners at Fairway inn, east of Galion, at the quarterly meeting July 10. Dinner will be provided with the compliments of the Galion Iron works. Hal Sours, state highway director, will be the guest speaker.

Y Expands Tennis Program at Courts

Tennis, which has suffered a severe jolt locally since the war began, is slowly being helped back on its once-firm feet through the expanding athletic program of the Marion Y. M. C. A.

The three Y. M. C. A. courts in Vernon Heights were opened early this month and Y mem- bers are getting in practice games daily. The courts are open for play by members and service- men and guests throughout the week and on Sunday afternoons.

Miss Eileen Clark, for several years one of Marion's better young tennis players, gives in- structions each Tuesday and Thursday morning on the Y courts. Any Y member is eligible to receive these instructions. John Stuckey and Fred Lacey are in charge of the maintenance of the courts.

Earl N. Male, executive secre- tary of the Y stated that tennis tournaments for Y. M. C. A. members would be held in the near future on the Vernon Heights courts. These tourneys probably will be for young Y members since there has been no marked interest shown in tennis by Mar- ion adults.

John Dreher is chairman of the tennis committee of the Y. M. C. A. His committee has adopted the policy of giving any service- man free access to the Y courts. Several soldiers from the Marion Engineer Depot play regularly on the courts, and occasionally mem- bers of the armed forces home on furlough try their hand at racket- wielding.

Battered Reds Return To Rhineland Tonight

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, June 23—Cin- cinnati's battered Reds come home tonight for a ball game with one they can beat at least once in a while, the Chicago Cubs.

Hank Wyse for the Cubs and Clyde Shoun, the Reds' no-hitter, are the pitchers.

The Reds were glad enough to get out of Pittsburgh, where they dropped three out of four games, the latest being yesterday's dou- bleheader. The scores were 9-4 and 7-4, and the so-called hit- less Pirates hung up 26 bingles on Cincinnati's once-great pitch- ing staff which now consists of Bucky Walters. Bucky won the one game for the Reds in the se- ries.

3 College Lassies And Babe Survive Tourney

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, June 23—Three college lassies and 20-year-old Babe Didriksen Zaharias entered today's semi-final round of the nation's No. 1 war-time women's golf tournament, the Western Open.

The youngster of the field, 18- year-old Betty Jane Haemerle, faced the stern test of playing Babe, the Beverly Hills, Calif., all-around athlete who has been averaging nearly 250 yards with her drives. Sturdy Miss Hae- merle, a seasoned competitor de- spite her age, upset defending champion Patty Berg yesterday 1-up in 19 holes.

GERMANS PREPARE FOR STAND IN ITALY

By The Associated Press

ROME, June 23—Allied forces in Italy have made progress along both coastal sectors, but the Ger- mans apparently are planning a determined stand along strong po- sitions between Lake Trasimeno and Lake Chiusi and north of Pe- rugia in the central sector, allied headquarters indicated today.

The Eighth army is encounter- ing "strong resistance" north of Perugia, and southwest of Lake Trasimeno, where a number of German counter-attacks have been repulsed, the communique said.

An Algiers radio news roundup said allied forces on the Adriatic were 25 miles from the important seaport of Ancona. The communi- que said troops in that sector have continued their "rapid ad- vance and are now approaching the Chienti river," about 25 miles below Ancona.

On the west coast the Fifth army, despite strong resistance, has pressed forward astride high- way one, leading through Livorno to Pisa, and is approaching Volon- ica, some 55 miles below Pisa, be- lieved to be the anchor of the next major German resistance line.

Flying 2,300 sorties, the Mediter- ranean air force attacked targets in northern Italy and the battle area, and also in Albania and Yu- goslavia. Two enemy aircraft were destroyed, compared with 10 allied planes missing.

Crawford Co. Among Bond Drive Leaders

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS, June 23—Although Crawford county is still far short of its fifth war bond quota, the county ranks high among the counties in district 1 consisting of 16 counties in this area with 20.8 per cent of the quota subscribed. Only one county, Lake, ranks ahead of Crawford with 48.5 per cent of its quota subscribed.

Total sales for the county regis- tered at the federal reserve bank in Cleveland, as of June 20, were $1,930,605.25.

While the county is well in ad- vance of other counties in the area, Bucyrus is lagging with only $143,245 subscribed in bonds as of June 20 against the quota of $1,122,000.

Bucyrus bond drive will be given impetus at a public rally and program sponsored by Walter E. Bauer post, Veterans of For- eign wars, at the high school Sat- urday night when the Jaheo Mel- ody boys of Cleveland outstanding entertainers, will present the pro- gram.

District Briefs

SYCAMORE — Mr. and Mrs. James B. Holt of Birmingham, England, are announcing the en- gagement of their only daughter, Miss Elsie G. Holt, to Corp. Lewis Edward Young, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Young of Syca- more, who is stationed somewhere in England. Mr. and Mrs. Young received the announcement this week. Miss Holt is a trained nurse in a hospital near where Corp. Young is stationed.

SYCAMORE—A daughter was born Saturday to S 2/c Tom Mc- Vey and Mrs. McVey in Mansfield General hospital. The father is stationed at Fort Lauderdale, Fla. The mother was formerly Wanda Swartz of Nevada. The child is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. McVey of Sycamore.

CARDINGTON—Mrs. Imogene Snider suffered a broken right wrist and sprained left arm, a badly cut lip and body bruises when she fell down eight steps at her home Saturday.

ASHLEY—The following Boy Scouts are leaving for Camp Laz- arus, six miles south of Delaware: Dick Westbrook, Wayne Gale, Jimmie Shoemaker, Jack Welch, John Jackson, Harvey Warner and William Young.

NEW NAVY AID. Ralph A. Bard of Chicago has been named by President Roosevelt to fill the vacancy left by James V. Forrestal when the latter was made Secretary of the Navy. The President followed the recommendation of Mr. Forrestal in appointing Bard to his new post.

CIRCLE GIVES PROGRAM

A meeting of the Lucy Webb Hayes Circle of Epworth Metho- dist church was held Thursday night with Miss DeEmma Hawley of Baker street. Devotions were led by Miss Hazel Reed and Miss Helen Meredith. It was reported members had contributed 65½ hours to the war effort and 84 calls had been made. Mrs. S. M. Ingmire discussed "Rural Church of Life of Mexico," followed by Miss Margaret Huffman reviewing the work done by the primary school supported by the W. S. C. S. Two new members, Mrs. Florence Pickerel and Mrs. Lu- cille Pessel, were introduced. Guests were Miss Nellie Bain, Mrs. Blanche Miller, Miss Luella Schell and Miss Ruth Dell Aus- man. Refreshments were served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. Pauline Ruhl and Miss Audrey Bulander.

CHEERS INSTEAD OF JEERS

BOSTON (UP)—Almost 168 years to the date American re- bels dared red-coated General Gage out of Boston, General Gage returned—wearing the regulation olive-drab. Not bullets but plau- dits greeted Brig. Gen. Philip S. Gage when he recently arrived to take over command of the har- bor defenses.

Couple Exchange Vows at Upper Sandusky

Special to The Star

UPPER SANDUSKY, June 23— Mrs. Olive Spurlock and Sergeant Stanton R. Swerlein were mar- ried Wednesday evening at the home of the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jay Swerlein, in Upper Sandusky, with Rev. H. C. Kellermeyer, pastor of Trinity Evangelical and Reformed church, reading the single ring cere- mony.

The bride, formerly a resident of West Virginia, has lived in Upper Sandusky for the past two years, making her home with her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Wall. She is employed at the Interstate Motive Parts, here.

The bridegroom was a gradu- ate of Salem High school with the class of 1936. He attended Ohio Northern university at Ada and Tiffin Business university.

He entered the army in No- vember 1941, and is now being transferred from Fort Benning, Ga., where he was an instructor in military tactics, to Camp Mc- Coy, Wisconsin.

LEGAL NOTICE

The Board of County Commissioners of Marion County, Ohio, will receive bids for an addition to the Marion County Court House for Men's Public Toilet.

Bids will be received until 10 o'clock A. M. (C.W.T.) 11 o'clock A. M. (E.W.T.) on the 10th day of July, 1944, by the Board of County Commissioners at the Commissioners office in the Court House at Marion, Ohio, at which time and place all bids will be publicly opened and read aloud. At the next meeting of the Board of County Commissioners following receipt of said bids, formal action will be taken toward the awarding of the contract.

Plans and specifications are on file in Columbus Builders Exchange, Columbus, Ohio, and the Auditor's Office at Marion County, Ohio, and includes the furnishing of labor at the wage rates prevailing in Marion County, as set forth in the specifications, and material for the following items: Masonry work, carpenter work, structural steel, floor covering, tile and marble work, electric wiring and fixtures, lathing and plastering, plumbing and plumbing fixtures, heating and sheet metal work, painting and decorating.

Each bid must be accompanied by cash or a certified check on some solvent bank in an amount equal to five per cent (5%) of the estimated cost of the improvement, made payable to the order of the Board of Commissioners of Marion County, Ohio, for the benefit of said County which will be forfeited by the successful bidder or bidders in case they fail to enter into a contract within five days from the date of award.

Drawings and specifications may be obtained from the Architect for the personal use of the contractor upon deposit of a check in the amount of $10.00. The amount of the deposit will be returned to the contractor upon return of set of plans and specifications with deductions made for actual reproductions.

The successful bidder will be required to give bond in an amount at least equal to 100 per cent of the contract price as security for the faithful performance of this contract and for the payment of all persons performing labor on the project and furnishing materials in connection with the contract.

Bids may be made upon blank forms furnished by the Architect and may be for the whole or for any separate trades mentioned in the plans and specifications. The bids must not exceed the estimate as set forth in said plans and specifications.

The Board of Marion County Commissioners reserve the right to accept the lowest responsible bid or reject all bids.

Signed:
Marion County Commissioners
By: W. S. Guthrie, Clerk.

LEGAL NOTICE

Sealed proposals will be received at the office of the Auditor of the City of Marion, State of Ohio until 12 o'clock noon the 1st day of July, 1944, for the purchase of bonds of the said City, in the aggregate sum of $25,000.00, dated the 1st day of January, 1944. Said bonds will be in the denominations of $1750.00 and will draw interest at the rate of three per centum per annum, payable semi-annually on the first days of January and July of each year upon presentation and surrender of the interest coupons to be attached to said bonds. Anyone desiring to do so may present a bid or bids for said bonds based on their bearing a different rate of interest than that hereinbefore specified, provided that where a fractional interest rate is bid such fraction shall be one quarter of one per cent of multiples thereof. Said bonds will be due and payable as follows:

No. 1—July 1, 1945.
No. 2—January 1, 1946.
No. 3—July 1, 1946.
No. 4—January 1, 1947.
No. 5—July 1, 1947.
No. 6—January 1, 1948.
No. 7—July 1, 1948.
No. 8—January 1, 1949.
No. 9—July 1, 1949.
No. 10—January 1, 1950.
No. 11—July 1, 1950.
No. 12—January 1, 1951.
No. 13—July 1, 1951.
No. 14—January 1, 1952.
No. 15—July 1, 1952.
No. 16—January 1, 1953.
No. 17—July 1, 1953.
No. 18—January 1, 1954.
No. 19—July 1, 1954.
No. 20—January 1, 1955.

Any and all said bonds are subject to redemption at any interest paying period at par and accrued interest.

The said bonds are issued for the purpose of remodeling and enlarging the Marion City Hospital and the purchase of equipment therefore and under authority of the laws of Ohio and the Uniform Bond Act and under and in accordance with Ordinance No. 4619 of said City entitled, "Ordinance providing for the issuance of bonds of the City of Marion, Ohio for the purpose of remodeling and enlarging the Marion City Hospital and the purchase of equipment therefore and to retire notes heretofore issued for said purpose," passed on the 13th day of December, 1943.

Said bonds will be sold to the highest bidder for not less than the face value thereof and accrued interest.

All bids must state the number of bonds bid for and the gross amount of bids and accrued interest to date of delivery. All bids to be accompanied by a certified check payable to the city for $500.00 upon condition that said bid is accepted. The bidder will receive and pay for such bonds as may be issued as above set forth, within thirty days from the time of award, said bonds to be forfeited or check may be retained by the city if said condition is not fulfilled.

Bids should be sealed and endorsed: "Bids for remodeling and enlarging Marion City Hospital."

STOCKS MEET HEAVY GOING

Specialties and Handful of Blue Chips Given Some Attention.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, June 23—Specialties and a handful of "blue chips" attracted buyers in the stock market today but progress generally was ragged and a number of favorites ran into heavy going.

Slow from the start, dealings were marked by occasional large blocks of low-priced issues. Price changes held to a fractional range toward the fourth hour.

Occasional support was accorded U. S. Steel, General Motors, Chrysler and Columbia Gas. New highs for 1944 were touched by Eastern Rolling Mill, Sears Roebuck, American Bosch, Curtis Publishing and Park Utah. Hupp Motor, Graham-Paige and Park & Tilford were under water.

MILL BUYING HELPS SEND WHEAT HIGHER

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, June 23—Mill buying of wheat futures persisted through most of today's trading session and the July and September contracts showed particular strength. Prices were well above yesterday's close despite profit taking by local traders.

Commission houses with eastern connections and distilling interests bought rye in substantial volume to create a rally that at one time lifted prices as much as three cents from the early low points.

CIRCLE LUNCHEON MEETING

Mrs. O. M. Young of 816 East Church street entertained Circle No. 7 of the Ladies Aid society of First Presbyterian church at a covered dish luncheon Thursday afternoon. Devotions were conducted by Mrs. C. O. Phallen. The program consisted of a roundtable discussion of Biblical characters studied during the past year. Mrs. Eva McGill was in charge.

LOVE'S FAIR HORIZON

By ADELE GARRISON

I DO NOT know how Junior and Roderick managed to control their joy at my sudden announcement. I knew that if they were alone, they would have been uttering yelps of exultation, the while they clapped each other on the shoulders with all their strength.

But from somewhere they pumped up the resolution necessary to keep their faces and voices composed. They did not answer, for they had not been directly addressed, but their eyes, fixed on Hugh Grantland, held all the yearning and the suspense which I knew was theirs.

Forgiven

The next instant I forgave Hugh for the involuntary frown of impatience which he had given me a minute or two before. I told myself that he could frown a dozen times more in this interview, if he liked, and I should not resent it.

For he was looking at the boys with twinkling eyes, and his lips were twitching.

"Why, yes!" he said. "I approve. But have you asked them? Are you sure they will want to go?"

"I haven't asked them yet," I said slowly, "but—"

My son and my nephew could contain themselves no longer. As if released by Hugh's consent, they flung themselves on me, hugging me tightly.

"Do we want to go," they chorused. "Oh, boy!"

"They haven't given a formal 'yes,'" Hugh said judicially, "but I think we can take that for granted."

Speak Together

The boys released me as quickly as if they had been prodded with a bayonet. And they brought themselves up to soldierly position and said together, with Junior a fraction of a beat ahead so that Roderick missed nothing:

"Sorry, sir! And thank you, sir! We shall be very glad to go."

I rose from my seat with decision, and Hugh also rose and looked benevolently down upon the boys and me.

"Well, I think everything is settled," he said. "As I understand it, Lillian will be here in a few hours in an armored car with guards who will stay here, releasing the boys for duty with you. Then you and the boys will return to the city in the car, meeting the Chief at his hideaway in Greenwich Village. Will you advise Lillian from the city when we may expect you and your father?"

"Yes, I will do that," I answered. "Do you wish to see Lillian when she arrives?"

A Tonic

"That depends," he said, "on the time she gets here. If seeing me will delay your start on your journey, then my answer is 'no.' Otherwise, I shall be delighted to see her. Talking—or, rather, listening—to Lillian is a tonic for tired nerves."

"Then, if there is time, I will send her down," I said. "Now is there anything more you wish to ask of me, or to tell me, before I say good-night and au revoir?"

He put his hands upon my shoulders, and for a startled instant I wondered if he meant to kiss me good-bye. The next moment he said a trifle unsteadily: "Nothing, except to bid you take care of yourself, which, of course, you never will do."

He turned and clapped each of the boys on the shoulder. Roderick looked as if he had received an accolade, but I wondered if my "overtime working imagination" made me detect a certain lack of enthusiasm in my young son.

"So I'll have to commission you two lads," he said earnestly. "You are to look out for this dauntless lady and see that she gets back to the farm all in one piece."

Face Clears

Junior's face cleared, and his voice rang out with Roderick's in a chant of "Okay, sir. We'll do our best."

"I know you will," he said, and then waited while I said good-bye to Lee Chow, and the boys dutifully followed suit. Then we were out on the winding stairs and retracing our journey to the second floor of the farmhouse.

There I stopped, and gave them directions for the next few minutes.

"I shall have to telephone Aunt Lillian first of all," I said, "and then I must talk to Granzie for a minute or two. Will you please go downstairs now and tell Jim and Katie that I will be down in five minutes and wish to see them?"

"Okay!" they said, and started for the stairs, but I stopped them.

"Immediately after that," I said, "go to your room and pack your overnight bags. We may have to stay in the city for a day or two."

YOUR HEALTH

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

Lack of Pep

Fashions change in the thinking of that portion of the general public so afflicted as to what is the cause of their lack of pep. I can remember long ago before any of these here wars when I was just beginning to penetrate the mysteries of the science of medicine that it was very orthodox not only for the laity but in the best scientific circles to ascribe it to chronic constipation.

Then the X-ray came along and threw some chilling doubts on the general theory, so that the ultra-scientific could no longer hold it. Nowadays after going through periods in which uric acid, allergy and upset endocrines were given as the cause, public opinion has generally settled on the idea that lack of pep is due to lack of concentrated vitamins.

There are a few stubborn specimens, however, who cling to the old idea that constipation is the root of all evil and for their sakes the thesis is worth debating today.

The average man would repudiate with scorn the challenge that he did not know the correct meaning of constipation. But such might be the case. The conventional arrangement of regular diurnal defecation is a social convenience rather than a law of nature. Savage man in a state of Nature responds to the stimulus initiated in the movements of his intestine by the presence of a meal in the stomach and evacuates after each meal. But the meals may be quite a long ways apart.

There is an oft-quoted experience of an eminent physician one of whose patients replied to a question that his bowels were regular although further inquiry proved he meant once every other Monday.

The Xray has taught us a great deal about the true physiology of the average case of constipation and ruined some of the older notions. If a barium meal is followed through the digestive tract of a constipated person it will be seen in four out of five instances to pass out of the stomach and through the small intestine at exactly the same rate as that of a normal control. After every part of a meal has left the small intestine and entered the large intestine, it normally requires about sixteen hours for it to traverse the entire length and come to rest in the sigmoid colon, and this schedule is no different in four out of five self-styled constipated individuals than in normal ones.

The nomal individual evacuates the daily accumulation in the lower bowel sometime between breakfast and noon. Here, and here only, does the constipated individual differ. The residue of his meal remains in the lower part of the large bowel sometimes for days. At that point, and at that point only, does the much advertised stasis of constipation occur.

This explanation clears up several widely held misconceptions about constipation. First it knocks out the absorption of poison idea. Absorption does not occur from the lower part of the large bowel where the residue rests in a constipated individual. The small intestine from which most absorption occurs is just as empty most of the time in the constipated individual as in the normal. The feeling of toxicity of poisoning that the constipated individual has is largely due to the cathartic habit.

Secondly, this knowledge of the real physiology of constipation knocks out the idea of the efficiency of cathartics entirely. Why should a cathartic be employed to stir up all the 25 feet of the entire intestine for the sole purpose of emptying the last few inches of that tube. An enema will do it more efficiently. The cathartic just irritates and roils up all insides and gives the patient that feeling of discomfort that is interpreted as meaning absorption of sewage.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

A. B. C.—Is walking harmful for one that has high blood pressure?

Answer:—Moderate exercise is beneficial for a person with high blood pressure, provided complications of heart or kidney do not contradict. Walking is the best form of moderate exercise.

G. C.—A woman 70 years of age has a bad itching in her back and arms. What would you advise?

Answer: The winter itching of old people usually means too much bathing. Leave off the soap and water. Get plenty of fresh vegetables.

M. D.—Would it be dangerous for a woman of 66 years with high blood pressure and diabetes to go on a four hour airplane trip to see her son who is going overseas?

Answer: I don't think so, but what the dickens—she'll go anyway.

A. E. S.—Can sugar be in the blood as well as in the urine? Is it more dangerous in the blood?

Answer: There is always a certain amount of sugar in the blood. The blood sugar always rises before the urine sugar appears.

F. H. J.—I have read an article by a doctor who stated that the average life of a person after starting to take thyroid extract is 36 years.

Answer: There is no rule as to how long thyroid extract can be taken. Most people who need it are about 45 years of age when they begin to need it, so forty years about carries them to their expectancy.

'T' Gasoline Coupon Deadline Is July 1

Operators of commercial trucks using "T" gasoline coupons were reminded today by Edgar W. Barnhart, chairman of the local War Price and Rationing Board, that they must obtain their third quarter rations by July 1.

Old "T" coupons issued in March for the second quarter will not be accepted after July 1.

Every person operating under certificate of war necessity should apply to their board, presenting their certificate, in sufficient time to enable the rationing boards to mail their rations before July 1.

A universal language based on the seven notes of the musical scale instead of on grammar or vocabulary is called the Spatari-Radio-Code.
